

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

A PROCLAMATION HONORING MATT WHEELER FOR WINNING THE BOYS' DIVISION III STATE BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

HON. ZACHARY T. SPACE

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. SPACE. Madam Speaker:

Whereas, Matt Wheeler showed hard work and dedication to the sport of baseball; and

Whereas, Matt Wheeler was a supportive team player; and

Whereas, Matt Wheeler always displayed sportsmanship on and off of the field; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that along with his friends, family, and the residents of the 18th Congressional District, I congratulate Matt Wheeler on winning the Boys' Division III State Baseball Championship. We recognize the tremendous hard work and sportsmanship he has demonstrated during the 2008–2009 baseball season.

HONORING MARSHALL AND MARJORIE BARLOW

HON. GWEN MOORE

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Ms. MOORE of Wisconsin. Madam Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Marshall and Marjorie Barlow for being selected for the 2009 Angels in Adoption Award. This award is to honor the tremendous and selfless work of two of my constituents that has enriched the lives of foster children and orphans. I believe the Barlow family is truly deserving of this high honor and I want to commend them for their service to our community.

According to most recent data from the Department of Health and Human Services, in 2006, 79,000 children were taken away from their parents in the court systems but only 51,000 were adopted. According to the same data, in 2006, there were a total of 510,000 children in the U.S. foster care system that needed a safe environment to live. These startling facts demonstrate that foster care families, like the Barlows, are so tremendously important for helping and preserving our nation's most valuable investment for the future, our children.

Marshall and Marjorie have gone consistently above and beyond the call of duty by taking on a rather specialized role in the foster care system. In addition to over 400 children who have entered their doors, the Barlow family serves as an assessment family. Assessment families are on call 24 hours a day, 7 days a week in order to ensure that a potential adopting family meets the requirements for providing a safe and caring environment for the children.

The Barlow family also shows their deep and personal dedication to the foster care system through many different aspects of their own lives. For example, their household contains what they call a "virtual store," a collection of clothes, toys, and care items for children of all ages. Another example of their generosity is when Marjorie and Marshall, already parents of three, opened their family to one of their foster children. The first young woman that they took in was pregnant and they helped her give birth to the first child that they adopted into their own family, Taliyah.

Marshall and Marjorie Barlow are truly deserving of this honor and recognition for their dedication to such a noble cause. The Barlow family is a true inspiration to us for touching the lives of so many children that desperately need our help.

IN HONOR OF DR. BENJAMIN F. PAYTON

HON. SANFORD D. BISHOP, JR.

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. BISHOP of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Dr. Benjamin F. Payton of Tuskegee, AL. Dr. Payton will retire next year after 28 years as the president of Tuskegee University. During his tenure, he guided the university through unprecedented growth and development.

A native of Orangeburg, SC, Dr. Payton graduated Phi Beta Kappa from South Carolina State University in 1955 with a B.A. in social studies. He went on to receive a B.D. from Harvard in political theology, an M.A. from Columbia in the philosophy of religion, and a Ph.D. in social ethics from Yale.

Prior to joining Tuskegee, Dr. Payton was program officer of Higher Education and Research at the Ford Foundation in New York City (1972–81); president of Benedict College in Columbia, SC (1967–72); executive director of the Commission on Religion and Race at the Department of Social Justice at the National Council of Churches in the U.S.A. (1966–67); director of the Office of Church and Race at the Protestant Council of the City of New York (1965–66); and an assistant professor at Howard University in Washington, DC (1963–65).

Dr. Payton has served Tuskegee since 1981. Among his many accomplishments at the university, he established and developed a number of programs for students in the fields of engineering, health care, bioethics, and business.

Additionally, he has been instrumental in raising funds for various renovation and improvement projects on campus, has helped to increase the endowment almost sevenfold, and has served as a shining example of leadership and moral courage for every student who steps on the Tuskegee University campus.

He has received three Presidential appointments, first by President Ronald Reagan to the Board for International Food and Agricultural Development, by President George H. Bush to lead the Task Force on Agricultural and Economic Development to Zaire, and most recently by President George W. Bush to chair the Advisory Board on Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

Madam Speaker, it is my distinct honor to recognize Dr. Benjamin F. Payton on the occasion of his retirement and I commend him for his dedication, outstanding leadership and, above all, thank him for his years of sacrifice, hard work, and service to his community and to the United States.

RECOGNIZING INDIANA UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA'S COMMITMENT TO OUR STUDENTS AND COMMUNITY

HON. JOHN P. MURTHA

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. MURTHA. Madam Speaker, Indiana University of Pennsylvania (IUP) has been providing quality, affordable higher educational opportunities to students since 1875.

With over 14,000 students, 1,600 employees, and an annual operating budget of nearly $250 million, IUP is one of the top economic drivers in Indiana County, and the reason why unemployment rates there fall well below the national and state averages.

In this tough economy, IUP has the largest student enrollment in University history, and has been frequently ranked as a "best value for public colleges and universities."

Madam Speaker, when my grandfather, Charles Ray, graduated from IUP in 1902, there were only twenty-five students in his class. Twenty-five years later, my mother graduated from IUP, and by the time my daughter graduated from IUP the University had over 10,000 students.

Having worked with IUP over the last few decades, I have witnessed both their academic achievements and their strong leadership within our community. University officials work hand-in-hand with our local and state representatives to identify projects that have the greatest academic impact on our students and the greatest economic impact on our community.

The Foundation for IUP is currently working with city and county officials to make a series of main street improvements to downtown Indiana. The Foundation's $500,000 investment is transforming the city's main thoroughfare and improving the livability of our community.

IUP is near the completion of a multi-phase residential revival program, a $270 million public-private collaboration that is the largest of its kind in the nation. These new student housing facilities integrate "living-learning" space and are beautifying both the campus and community.

• This "bullet" symbol identifies statements or insertions which are not spoken by a Member of the Senate on the floor.

Matter set in this typeface indicates words inserted or appended, rather than spoken, by a Member of the House on the floor.

Most recently, IUP began construction of a 150,000 square-foot convention and athletic complex. The complex, built on the site of a former salvage company, will provide IUP and the community with space to accommodate large events that will bring in both patrons and revenue.

Madam Speaker, I rise to commend the achievements of Indiana University of Pennsylvania, and to thank them for their exceptional commitment to our students and to our community.

A PROCLAMATION HONORING JOHNNY IACOBUCCI FOR WINNING THE BOYS' DIVISION III STATE BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

HON. ZACHARY T. SPACE

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. SPACE. Madam Speaker:

Whereas, Johnny Iacobucci showed hard work and dedication to the sport of baseball; and

Whereas, Johnny Iacobucci was a supportive team player; and

Whereas, Johnny Iacobucci always displayed sportsmanship on and off of the field; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that along with his friends, family, and the residents of the 18th Congressional District, I congratulate Johnny Iacobucci on winning the Boys' Division III State Baseball Championship. We recognize the tremendous hard work and sportsmanship he has demonstrated during the 2008–2009 baseball season.

COPPER QUEEN COMMUNITY HOSPITAL 125TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. GABRIELLE GIFFORDS

OF ARIZONA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Ms. GIFFORDS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Copper Queen Community Hospital, which has been providing exceptional healthcare in Bisbee and Southeastern Arizona for 125 years.

Copper Queen Community Hospital began serving residents in this historic mining community of Bisbee in the 1880s. Like the community it serves, the hospital has come a long way since those rough and tumble days, when its medical care was offered in a mining cave.

The first hospital building was built by the mining companies in 1900—a dozen years before Arizona even became a state. Twenty-six years later, a new hospital was constructed to provide services to the miners and other patients. At that time, Bisbee was a thriving and bustling community, a town that grew prosperous because of copper, gold, silver and other minerals.

Today's current hospital building opened in 1961, thanks to the Phelps Dodge Corporation. It was operated by the mining company until 1976, when the hospital and all equipment were donated to the Cochise County Hospital Association. At that time, the Bisbee Hospital Association was established to oversee hospitals operations and to ensure that Southeastern Arizona had access to necessary medical services and high-quality patient care. This new association was open to community members and leaders, beginning a tradition of community involvement that continues to this day.

The Copper Queen Community Hospital of 2009 is a 14-bed critical-access, non-profit facility that provides a full range of medical services to residents of Bisbee and Cochise County. In recent years, clinics in outlying areas have extended healthcare to rural communities.

The hospital's strong commitment to rural healthcare makes it a worthy recipient of federal assistance. Needed funding allows for the ever expansion of the emergency room, improvement in patient services and help for those in need in Cochise County.

For more than a century, Copper Queen Community Hospital has held true to its mission of providing access to primary healthcare in southeastern Cochise. The hospital is one of only four in Arizona to be on the list of the 100 Top Regional Hospitals in the United States. It plays a critical role in the delivery of medical services to the people of Congressional District 8.

I am proud to join with a grateful community to commend Copper Queen Community Hospital for its long tradition of quality healthcare and I wish it continued success.

CONGRATULATIONS CHANCELLOR ANGELA MERKEL

HON. JOE WILSON

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Madam Speaker, on September 29, 2009, The New York Times reported that "Europe's Socialists Suffering Even in Downturn." This comes on the heels of the September 27th elections in Germany where the socialist parties fared poorly receiving only 23 percent of the vote—their worst result since World War II.

I want to congratulate Chancellor Angela Merkel on her re-election to the position of chancellor and commend her on her capable and strong leadership for the German people and in the world community. She now leads a coalition made up of the Christian Democrats and Free Democrats who received 33.8 percent and 15 percent of the vote respectively.

Following her original election, Merkel was the first person from the former East Germany to assume the post of chancellor of the unified Germany. This is a tremendous achievement since she grew up under the communism of East Germany.

With a center-right majority, Chancellor Merkel will continue to lead with conservative principles towards greater prosperity. Germany will continue to be a vital member of NATO promoting peace through strength.

I am grateful for my German heritage which German Ambassador Klaus Scharioth substantiated for me this year. My ancestor Daniel Weisiger was born in Frankfurt in 1709 and immigrated in 1731, from Rotterdam, the Netherlands, to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He settled in Chesterfield County, Virginia. I am proud to continue my German heritage with my first name being Addison, even though my nickname is Joe. My second son and first grandson now continue the name Addison.

A PROCLAMATION HONORING JIM MONIGOLD FOR WINNING THE BOYS' DIVISION III STATE BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

HON. ZACHARY T. SPACE

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. SPACE. Madam Speaker:

Whereas, Jim Monigold showed hard work and dedication to the sport of baseball; and

Whereas, Jim Monigold was a supportive coach; and

Whereas, Jim Monigold always displayed sportsmanship on and off of the field; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that along with his friends, family, and the residents of the 18th Congressional District, I congratulate Jim Monigold on winning the Boys' Division III State Baseball Championship. We recognize the tremendous hard work and sportsmanship he has demonstrated during the 2008–2009 baseball season.

AIDING AMERICAN SAMOA IN QUAKE AND TSUNAMI RECOVERY EFFORTS

HON. DONNA M. CHRISTENSEN

OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mrs. CHRISTENSEN. Madam Speaker, I once again today rise to extend my thought and prayers to the victims of the 8.0 magnitude earthquake and the subsequent tsunami that devastated our brothers and sisters in the U.S. territory in the South Pacific, American Samoa and Western Samoa.

Any my heart and that of all Virgin Islanders go out with sympathy to those that have lost loved ones as a result of yesterday's tragedy.

As the Congresswoman from the U.S. Virgin Islands, a community of islands that are also vulnerable to tropical disasters, and former chair of the Subcommittee on Insular Affairs, I am well aware of the toll that it can take on people, on infrastructure, on our time and resources but most especially—individuals and families. And the emotional repercussions go on long after the physical recovery is done.

Having visited American Samoa on several occasions and Western Samoa once, I know of the many struggles especially faced by the people of American Samoa, but I also know of their close family and community ties, their strength of spirit and most importantly, their faith.

The people of my district, the U.S. Virgin Islands and I stand in solidarity with the people of American Samoa at this time of their great distress.

I extend my support of our colleagues and friend—the Dean of the territorial delegation—Congressman ENI FALEOMAVAEGA as we make the necessary arrangements to mobile and deploy the urgently needed emergency assistance that our President has directed, and assure them that the American people and the people of the other offshore territories stand ready to assist them in their time of need.

As I said earlier, the people of American Samoa and Western Samoa are a strong and resilient people. I know that their faith and their strong cultural bonds and traditions will help; they meet this present challenge, as they have ones that have come before.

On behalf of myself, my staff and the people of the Virgin Islands, please know that you can count on us in your hour of need, but also as you move forward in recovery and then to address the other longstanding challenges that your leaders so clearly and passionately outlined for us when we were there last month.

EXPRESSING SUPPORT FOR THE PEOPLE OF AMERICAN SAMOA

HON. NICK J. RAHALL II

OF WEST VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. RAHALL. Madam Speaker, I rise to express my heartfelt condolences and deepest sympathies to the people of American Samoa as they cope with the effects of the powerful earthquake and tsunami that struck American Samoa, Independent Samoa and Tonga yesterday, September 29, 2009.

Our fellow Americans in American Samoa are presently facing tragic losses of life and property as a result of the most devastating of circumstances. It has been reported that survivors of the deadly earthquake-triggered tsunami described how they watched the in-rushing sea swallow up coastal towns and villages leaving devastation in its wake.

At least 111 people are confirmed killed in Independent Samoa, American Samoa's neighbor to the north and on Tonga and officials in the Polynesia region have expressed fears the toll will rise as rescue workers struggle to reach outlying villages submerged and flattened by the wave.

Additionally the island is without telephone service; homes and government buildings have been destroyed and the airport runway has been severely damaged. I applaud President Obama for his prompt response in declaring this a major disaster. I also want to commend our colleague, Congressman ENI FALEOMAVAEGA for his efforts facilitating the relief efforts that are currently underway.

Last month, I had the distinct pleasure of visiting American Samoa where we were graciously hosted by my good friend Congressman ENI FALEOMAVAEGA and the American Samoa Fono. In Pago Pago and the village of Leone, two areas severely hit, we were showered with beautiful and ornate traditional gifts and received with the warmest of welcomes and hospitality.

American Samoans in the Pacific and in the mainland United States are an integral part of our country's history and of our American social fabric. They are our brothers who fight valiantly in our wars and contribute immensely to the prosperity of our country. Today, I send my thoughts and prayers to the victims and their family members in this moment of grief and tragic loss. We stand in solidarity with our brothers and pray for their speedy recovery.

A PROCLAMATION HONORING JEREMY BOLON FOR WINNING THE BOYS' DIVISION III STATE BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

HON. ZACHARY T. SPACE

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. SPACE. Madam Speaker:

Whereas, Jeremy Bolon showed hard work and dedication to the sport of baseball; and Whereas, Jeremy Bolon was a supportive coach; and

Whereas, Jeremy Bolon always displayed sportsmanship on and off of the field; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that along with his friends, family, and the residents of the 18th Congressional District, I congratulate Jeremy Bolon on winning the Boys' Division III State Baseball Championship. INTRODUCTION OF A HOUSE RESOLUTION COMMEMORATING THE CANONIZATION OF FATHER DAMIEN DE VEUSTER, SS.CC. TO SAINTHOOD

HON. MAZIE K. HIRONO

OF HAWAII

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Ms. HIRONO. Madam Speaker, I rise today to introduce a resolution commemorating the canonization of Father Damien de Veuster, a member of the Congregation of the Sacred Hearts of Jesus and Mary, to sainthood on October 11, 2009. Some 600 people from Hawaii are traveling to the Vatican to witness his elevation.

As many of you know, Father Damien is recognized for his 16 years of selfless service to the people who were forcibly isolated on the peninsula of Kalaupapa on the island of Molokai, Hawaii, because they were diagnosed with leprosy, also known as Hansen's disease. Living among the people of Kalaupapa from 1873 to 1889, he eventually contracted Hansen's disease and ultimately died and was buried on Molokai.

The policy of exiling persons with the disease that was then known as leprosy began under the Kingdom of Hawaii and continued under the governments of the Republic of Hawaii, the Territory of Hawaii, and the State of Hawaii. Children, mothers, and fathers were forcibly separated and sent to the isolated peninsula of Kalaupapa, which for most of its history could only be accessed by water or via a steep mule trail. Children born to parents at Kalaupapa were taken away from their mothers and sent to orphanages or to other family members outside of Kalaupapa. Hawaii's isolation laws for people with Hansen's disease were not repealed until 1969, even though medications to control the disease had been available since the late 1940s.

I believe that all people, regardless of their religious beliefs, can recognize truly extraordinary persons who give of themselves without reserve for the betterment of their fellow human beings. Father Damien was surely such a person. No disease was as feared as leprosy in the late 1800s, but he volunteered to serve at Kalaupapa and requested to stay there in order to serve those who most shunned. He recognized the human rights and inherent dignity of all people, especially those he lived alongside at Kalaupapa.

Father Damien worked with those who were isolated at Kalaupapa to improve living conditions. A skilled carpenter, he led in the building of houses and hospitals, six chapels, a home for boys, and a home for girls. At the same time, he ministered to the spiritual and physical needs of his parishioners and helped to bury the hundreds who died during his years there.

It is noteworthy that, shortly after Hawaii became a State, Father Damien was the first selection of the State legislature to be memorialized in a statue as part of the National Statuary Hall Collection. Despite the fact that he was not born in Hawaii and lived so long ago, Hawaii's people recognized that his life embodied the true spirit of aloha (love, compassion, mercy, grace) and malama (to care for).

I have visited Father Damien's church and grave at Kalawao on the Kalaupapa peninsula. I hope that some of you will have the opportunity to visit Kalaupapa at some point in your lives. I know that you will be deeply moved, as I was, by the example of this man, soon to be recognized as a saint, as well as by the courage and perseverance of the people he dedicated his life to serving.

TRIBUTE TO MR. ROBERT TILLSLEY

HON. SCOTT GARRETT

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. GARRETT of New Jersey. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Mr. Robert Tillsley of Franklin Lakes, New Jersey for his dedicated support to the Boy Scouts of Northern New Jersey as well as Ramapo College and the members of the community of Bergen County. Tonight, Mr. Tillsley is being honored by the Iacopogh Mountains District of the Northern New Jersey Council of the Boy Scouts for his commitment to improving the local community. This district serves more than 3,000 youth, guided by 1,000 adult volunteers through 32 Cub Packs, 26 Boy Scout Troops and 6 Venture Crews.

Robert T. Tillsley has been a member and friend of scouting for his entire life. He started as a member of Troop 55 in Paterson, New Jersey, and worked his way up from Patrol Leader to become Junior Assistant Scoutmaster. In November of 1960, he achieved the honor of Eagle Scout and has consistently held true to its creeds—"once an Eagle Scout, always an Eagle Scout."

Mr. Tillsley also supports a variety of commendable organizations outside of the Boy Scouts. He serves as the chairman of the Foundation Board of Governors at Ramapo College and has chaired several board committees over the years. He has worked with McBride Corporate Real Estate since 1988 where he started as a Senior Vice President responsible for the marketing of multi-tenant office buildings and then moved on to McBride's National Services division to serve as President in 1994. His responsibilities include the oversight of national services, customer service, database implementation, maintaining relationships, and implementation of marketing services for the division. He is an active member of the Society of Industrial & Office Realtors, the Industrial & Office Real Estate Brokers Association of Metropolitan New York, and CORFAC International—a worldwide commercial real estate network through which he has spoken at numerous global conferences and serves as an Executive Committee member.

As Boy Scouting founder Lord Baden Powell once said, "It is the spirit within, not the veneer without, which makes a man." Robert Tillsley's spirit can be seen in his laudable educational and business pursuits on behalf of the Boy Scouts of America throughout the 5th district of New Jersey; I join with his family, friends, and community in celebrating this momentous occasion.

TRIBUTE TO MR. STUART FROHM

HON. DAVE CAMP

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. CAMP. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and commend Mr. Stuart Frohm, a prolific political journalist, columnist, and editor.

Stu will retire today, September 30, 2009, after 30 years with the Midland Daily News, my hometown newspaper. He was the political writer and wire editor for state, national, and world stories and photos.

Stu was a true newspaper man, a balanced mix of watchdog and champion for the Midland area community. He was a tireless and dedicated reporter and editor who fully understood politics. He was thorough and he was fair, even when critical. Most importantly, he informed readers and helped bring us together, even through the toughest decisions, the way only a professional journalist can.

I have shared many experiences with Stu. After each election, Stu and I talked. After State of the Unions, major votes, and important moments in our political history, Stu and I would talk on the phone. In fact, I vividly remember that it was Stu on the phone with me as the events of 9/11/2001 unfolded in Washington, D.C., and we were still talking as the Capitol Police told us to run out of the Cannon House Office Building.

Stu is much more than a reporter, much more than a columnist, and much more than an editor. He is a dedicated husband, beloved father and cherished community leader. It is an honor to consider him a friend, and I say that "on the record."

I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating Mr. Stuart Frohm, a journalist, editor, and friend, and wishing him the best of luck in his retirement.

A PROCLAMATION HONORING ZANE SHUSS FOR WINNING THE BOYS' DIVISION III STATE BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

HON. ZACHARY T. SPACE

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. SPACE. Madam Speaker: Whereas, Zane Shuss showed hard work and dedication to the sport of baseball; and Whereas, Zane Shuss was a supportive team player; and

Whereas, Zane Shuss always displayed sportsmanship on and off of the field; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that along with his friends, family, and the residents of the 18th Congressional District, I congratulate Zane Shuss on winning the Boys' Division III State Baseball Championship. We recognize the tremendous hard work and sportsmanship he has demonstrated during the 2008–2009 baseball season.

HONORING MARILYN M. MATHIS FOR HER SERVICE TO MURFREESBORO CITY SCHOOLS

HON. BART GORDON

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. GORDON of Tennessee. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Marilyn M. Mathis who is leaving Murfreesboro City Schools after 26 years of service to pursue a new phase in her distinguished career.

Marilyn joined City Schools in 1983 as the Assistant Superintendent for Administration under the leadership of School Director Dr. John Hodge Jones. After Dr. Jones' retirement in 1997, Marilyn was appointed Director of Schools.

During her 26 year tenure, Marilyn has seen the City School's student population nearly doubled. As Director, she has been influential in improving City Schools over the last 12 years.

Marilyn was determined to live up to the standards set by the No Child Left Behind Act and strived to make City Schools one of the top school districts in the state of Tennessee. She led the system by its mission statement: "to assure academic and personal success for each child."

Under Marilyn's leadership, City Schools added three new schools including the Bellwood-Bowdoin Preschool for more than 400 at-risk preschool students, and the opening of Scales and John Pittard Elementary Schools. She also established Bradley Academy as "An Arts Integrated School," the Discovery School for high achieving students at Reeves-Roger, and named Hobgood Elementary as a NASA Explorer School.

Marilyn also supported and participated in a public education foundation for Murfreesboro City Schools and created a partnership agreement with Middle Tennessee State University located in Murfreesboro.

Her legacy to City Schools will live on for years to come, and the students of Murfreesboro are better prepared for the future because of her hard work and dedication.

Thank you Marilyn. I wish you the best of luck in your new position as Executive Director of the Association for Independent and Municipal Schools.

IN HONOR OF MORT WEISBERG

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today in honor of Mort Weisberg, recipient of the Jewish National Fund's Tree of Life Award.

The Tree of Life Award is one of the Jewish National Fund's highest honors; a humanitarian award given in recognition of outstanding community involvement, leadership and service. Furthermore, the award is a symbol of a strong and improved Israel and allegiance to American-Israeli friendship.

Mr. Weisberg is the president and chief executive of Multi-Care Management, a nursing home operator, in the Greater Cleveland area. In addition to running a successful care-taking facility, Mort is the chairman of the Ohio Board of Examiners of Nursing Home Administrators. His active and generous participation in numerous Cleveland area charities further exhibits his commitment to the community.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, please join me in honor of Mort Weisberg for being presented the Tree of Life Award by the Jewish National Fund. I offer my congratulations to Mort as he is recognized for his service to the communities of Cleveland and dedication to a strong American-Israeli relationship.

STATEMENT COMMEMORATING THE INCEPTION OF REPRESENTATIONAL GOVERNMENT IN LYCIA

HON. MICHAEL E. McMAHON

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. McMAHON. Madam Speaker, many of us in this Chamber are familiar with the Roman and Greek fundamentals of our nation and our democracy. In addition to these two great nations and traditions a third cornerstone of democracy also existed in the Mediterranean of which our Founding Fathers also drew inspiration from.

There is a renewed effort by scholars to emphasize the link between our democracy and that of Patara, which was the capital of Lycia, an ancient civilization of democratic principles. The Lycian government, known as the Lycian League existed along Turkey's Mediterranean coast from roughly 167 BC until 400 AD, and served as an inspiration to the framers of the U.S. Constitution.

The Lycian League was the first democratic union in history to utilize proportional representation as a model for political organization.

At least twenty-three city-states were united under the League that presided over federal institutions. Depending on its size, each of the League's 23 city-states was eligible to send up to three representatives to the parliament (Bouleuterion) located in Patara. Medium-sized towns sent two, whereas smaller towns could unite together to send one representative to the capital on their behalf. The number of representatives from each city-state determined taxes and other financial obligations. The general assembly was responsible for electing federal officers controlling communal land and determining trade and civil rights, as well.

The "Lyciarch," was the Parliament's president, which at various times served as the League's religious, military, and political leader. Many historians believe that women have served in Patara as the Lyciarch.

One of the thinkers who impacted the debate over our own constitution was Montesquieu. In Book IX of his Spirit of the Laws, he argues the utility of confederacy, stating: "It is unlikely that states that associate will be of the same size and have equal power. . . . If one had to propose a model of a fine federal republic, I would choose the republic of Lycia."

Alexander Hamilton and James Madison picked up on this concept, and cited the Lycian League as a model for our own system of government.

Both Alexander Hamilton and James Madison used the Lycian form of government in the Federalist Papers. The semicircular rows of the Lycian parliament building was a model to the seating arrangements in the U.S. Congress today.

In the Federalist Papers No. 16, Alexander Hamilton wrote, "I shall content myself with barely observing here, that of all the confederacies of antiquity, which history has handed down to us, the Lycian and Achaean leagues, as far as there remain vestiges of them, appear to have been most free from the fetters of that mistaken principle, and were accordingly those which have best deserved, and have most liberally received, the applauding suffrages of political writers."

This is how an ancient civilization thousands of miles away and over two thousand years ago made a major impact on our system as a representative democracy, preventing the possibility of tyranny, as feared by Alexander Hamilton and James Madison.

IN HONOR AND REMEMBRANCE OF GUNNERY SERGEANT ADAM F.
BENJAMIN

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today in honor and remembrance of United States Marine Gunnery Sergeant Adam F. Benjamin, who courageously and selflessly rose to the call of duty, and made the ultimate sacrifice on behalf of our country.

Gunnery Sergeant Benjamin grew up in Garfield Heights and graduated from Garfield Heights High School in 1993. Shortly after graduating, he followed his dream to serve our country and enlisted in the United States Marine Corps. He quickly rose up the ranks and by 2006, at the age of 31, was promoted to the position of Gunnery Sergeant. He was a loyal, courageous and dedicated Marine, who loved every aspect of serving our nation in the military. Throughout his youth and career in the military, Gunnery Sergeant Benjamin was known for his positive outlook on life, caring nature and great sense of humor. He touched countless lives with his kind heart, generosity and sense of concern for others.

Gunnery Sergeant Benjamin was a brave and honorable United States Marine and an exceptional human being. The sacrifice, service and courage he has displayed will be forever honored and remembered by the entire Cleveland community, and by the nation. Gunnery Sergeant Benjamin's warm smile, generous heart, easy laugh, and joy for life will live on within the hearts and memories of those who loved and knew him best—his family, friends and fellow Marines. He will never be forgotten.

Madam Speaker, and colleagues, please join me in honor and remembrance of United States Marine Gunnery Sergeant Adam F. Benjamin. His life, gone far too soon, was framed by his great love of family, friends and country. I extend my deepest condolences to his mother and father, Judy Watters and Frank Benjamin; to his step-father, Robert Watters; to his brothers and sisters: Aaron, Amanda, Asa, Abram, Abigail, Amos, Amayah, Aric, Anyah, Alexis and Allen; to his grandmothers, Yolanda and Mary; and to his extended family and many close friends.

CONGRATULATING THE SMOKY
FOR 2009 ANGELS IN ADOPTION PROGRAM

HON. DAVID P. ROE

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. ROE of Tennessee. Madam Speaker, I want to congratulate the Smoky Mountain Children's Home for their long heritage as residential care center and an adoption placement agency.

I was honored to nominate the Smoky Mountain Children's Home for the 2009 Angels in Adoption™ program. The Congressional Coalition on Adoption Institute, which orchestrates the Angels in Adoption™ program, presented an award to The Smoky Mountain Children's Home along with more than 190 Angels from across the Nation.

Madam Speaker, the Smoky Mountain Children's Home's philosophy comes from a basic faith based belief that every child deserves a family.

I am thankful for the important work that is being done at the Smoky Mountain Children's Home. They are working each day toward one of the most noble causes imaginable—to improve the life of a child by bringing him or her together with a loving family.

I am grateful for programs such as Angels in Adoption™ who recognize the good work done by great organizations like the Smoky Mountain Children's Home.

COMMEMORATING SEA OTTER AWARENESS WEEK

HON. SAM FARR

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. FARR. Madam Speaker, I rise today to call attention to the 7th Annual Sea Otter Awareness Week, September 28–October 3, 2009, sponsored by Defenders of Wildlife. This week-long event provides the opportunity to educate the broader public about sea otters, their natural history, the integral role that sea otters play in the near-shore marine ecosystem, and the conservation issues they are facing.

In the early 1700's, before wide-scale hunting began, sea otters ranged across the North Pacific rim from Japan to Baja California. The worldwide population estimates for that time range from the hundreds of thousands to possibly a million or more. Before the hunting began, there were approximately 16,000–20,000 along California's coast. Killing these animals for their fur brought down their numbers until they were thought to be extinct off California by the early 1900s.

But they were not driven completely to extinction. In the 1930's a small population, of less than 100 animals that had escaped the hunt, was discovered in a remote cove on a coastal ranch in Big Sur, on the Central Coast of California. Since that time, groups such as Defenders of Wildlife, Friends of the Sea Otter, and Ocean Conservancy have raised public awareness and helped protect this important species under the Marine Mammal Protection Act and the Endangered Species Act. The presence of the California sea otter has become an icon of the state's coastal environment and culture, and these charismatic animals bring significant tourism revenue to Californian coastal communities.

The three year population average, counted by the U.S. Geological Survey this year, totals only 2,813 animals, a decrease of half a percent and the first such decline in over a decade. These numbers are significantly less than what is necessary to consider the population decline in recent years is highly concerning. Researchers are beginning to identify indirect hazards for sea otters such as non-point source pollution, pathogens, and entrapment in fisheries gear that are causing their population growth to reverse. Such realizations support the need for continued research and preventive measures to respond to these issues, while continuing to ward against the direct killings/takings that still occur.

The decline of Southern Sea Otters off of the California Coast not only impacts the species itself, but it affects other marine populations and the surrounding ecosystem because Sea Otters are what scientists refer to as a keystone species. This means that they are integrally important to the ecosystem in which they live. The demise of sea otters allows their prey, sea urchins, to proliferate unchecked leading to the alarming overgrazing of kelp beds—one of the oceans nursery grounds for many marine animals. Research shows that the absence of sea otters has a direct link to the sharp decline of kelp along portions of California's coast. Further, the Sea Otter is also what scientists refer to as a sentinel or an indicator species. In this way, the Sea Otters are the canaries in the coal mine for our coastal health. The Sea Otters are all too effective at monitoring toxins and diseases in the marine environment, which can affect the health of humans and other wildlife.

California took the first step toward addressing these emerging concerns by signing into law California Assembly Bill 2485, establishing a state fund for sea otter conservation: again this year Californians had the option of donating a portion of their tax returns to sea otter conservation. I want to emphasize that this means that Californians voluntarily pay a little more on their tax return to help protect these animals. Even during these trouble economic times, more than $220,000 has already been raised this year.

However, this is a federally protected species and California cannot go it alone. In addition to continuing to work with my colleagues to secure Federal funds to support a continued and complete recovery of the population, I am proud that H.R. 556, The Southern Sea Otter Recovery and Research Act was passed by the House of Representatives this past July. This tremendous success was buoyed by the support and devotion of many people. We are one step closer to making the act into law and bringing needed resources to this threatened species.

Madam Speaker, I applaud the many accomplishments of Defenders of Wildlife, who carry out the important mission to preserve our nation's wildlife and habitat. I also applaud the other nonprofit environmental organizations, working with the Monterey Bay Aquarium, researchers, fishermen, state and federal agencies, schools, and many other institutions and individuals, who devote tremendous effort to protect and recover the southern/California sea otter. Sea Otter Awareness Week is just one of their many activities geared towards honoring and saving this species, and I am proud to be associated with this vital work.

IN HONOR AND RECOGNITION OF THE CSARDAS DANCE COMPANY

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today in honor and recognition of the founders, members and performers of the Csardas Dance Company of Cleveland, Ohio, as they celebrate fifteen of years of promoting the history and heritage of Hungary, through the ageless and colorful expressions of the songs and dances of Hungary.

Richard Graber, who grew up in Cleveland as the son of Hungarian immigrants, founded Csardas Dance Company in 1994. He is now the Director of Programs and Services with the Houston, Texas Arts Alliance, and serves on the Board of the Hungarian American Cultural Association of Houston. Christopher L. Smith, former Artistic Director, set a precedent of historical authenticity and keen attention to detail, which still reflect in the brilliant colors and fabrics of the dancers' wardrobes, and also, in the artistic direction of Csardas. Stuart Meyer and Judith Horvath have both served as Csardas Youth Ensemble Rehearsal Instructors, drawing on their backgrounds as professional dancers and instructors. Toni Gras, Managing Director, has been with the Company for the past ten years. As a child, she performed with Hungarian dance troupes, and her daughter danced for nine years in the Csardas Youth Ensemble.

Over the years, hundreds of young dancers have had the enriching opportunity to be part of the Csardas Dance Company, which continues to inspire and delight audiences throughout Ohio. Since its creation in 1994, the mission of the Csardas Dance Company has not wavered: To preserve and promote the dance, music and song of the people of Hungary. The Company also strives to bolster the public's support of, and appreciation for, the performing ethnic arts.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, please join me in honoring the Csardas Dance Company, for enlightening, entertaining and engaging audiences with song and dance that reflect a certain vibrancy in movement and music—bringing to life the age-old stories of village life in Hungary. The Csardas Dance Company is an arts treasure in Cleveland, and its continued existence is vital to the performing ethnic arts foundation of our entire community—serving as an audiovisual record of our heritage and our history and connecting us all through the universal language of dance and song.

REMARKS OF THE ISRAELI PRIME MINISTER AT THE UNITED NA- TIONS

HON. SHELLEY BERKLEY

OF NEVADA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Ms. BERKLEY. Madam Speaker, I seek to call my colleagues' attention to the powerful and important speech that Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu delivered to the United Nations General Assembly on September 24, 2009. In it, he calls on all nations to stand with Israel in confronting the threats posed by Iran and by terrorists around the world. This is a conflict between civilization and barbarity, he says, and the record of the United Nations hangs in the balance.

PRIME MINISTER BENJAMIN NETANYAHU'S
SPEECH TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, nearly 62 years ago, the United Nations recognized the rights of the Jews, an ancient people 3,500 years old, to a state of their own in their ancestral homeland.

I stand here today as the Prime Minister of Israel, the Jewish state, and I speak to you on behalf of my country and my people.

The United Nations was founded after the carnage of World War II after the horrors of the Holocaust. It was charged with preventing the reoccurrence of such horrendous events.

Nothing has undermined that mission, nothing has impeded it more, than the systematic assault on the truth. Yesterday the President of Iran stood at this very podium, spewing his latest anti-Semitic rants. Just a few days earlier, he again claimed that the Holocaust is a lie.

Last month, I went to a villa in a suburb of Berlin called Wannsee. There, on January 20, 1942, after a hearty meal, senior Nazi officials met and decided to exterminate my People. They left detailed minutes of that meeting and these minutes have been preserved for posterity by successive German governments. Here is a copy of the minutes of the meeting of senior Nazi officials instructing the Nazi government exactly how to carry out the extermination of the Jewish people. Is this protocol a lie? Is the German government, are all German governments lying?

A day before I was in Wannsee, I was given in Berlin the original construction plans for the Auschwitz-Birkenau concentration camp. These plans of the Auschwitz-Birkenau concentration camps I now hold in my hand. They contain a signature by Heinrich Himmler—Hitler's deputy himself. Are these plans of the Auschwitz-Birkenau concentration camp where one million Jews were murdered, are they a lie too?

This June, President Obama visited another concentration camp—one of many—the Buchenwald concentration camp. Did President Obama pay tribute to a lie?

And what of the Auschwitz survivors whose arms still bear the tattooed numbers branded on them by the Nazis? Are those tattoos a lie too?

One-third of all Jews perished in the great conflagration of the Holocaust. Nearly every Jewish family was affected, including my own. My wife's grandparents, her father's two sisters and his three brothers, and the aunts, and uncles and cousins—all murdered by the Nazis. Is this a lie?

Yesterday, the man who calls the Holocaust a lie spoke from this podium. To those who refused to come and to those who left in protest, I commend you. You stood up for moral clarity and you brought honor to your countries.

But to those who gave this Holocaust-denier a hearing, I say on behalf of my people, the Jewish people, and decent people everywhere: Have you no shame? Have you no decency?

A mere six decades after the Holocaust, you give legitimacy to a man who denies the murder of six million Jews while promising to wipe out the State of Israel, the State of the Jews. What a disgrace! What a mockery of the charter of the United Nations!

Now, perhaps some of you think that this man and his odious regime, perhaps they threaten only the Jews. Well, if you think that, you're wrong—dead wrong. History has shown us time and time again that what starts with attacks on the Jews eventually ends up engulfing many, many others.

For this Iranian regime is fueled by an extreme fundamentalism that burst onto the world scene three decades ago after lying dormant for centuries. In the past thirty years, this fanaticism has swept across the globe with a murderous violence that knows no bounds and with a cold-blooded impartiality in the choice of its victims. It has callously slaughtered Moslems and Christians, Jews and Hindus, and many others.

Though it is comprised of different offshoots, the adherents of this unforgiving creed seek to return humanity to medieval times. Wherever they can, they impose a backward regimented society where women, minorities, gays or anyone else deemed not to be a true believer is brutally subjugated.

The struggle against this fanaticism does not pit faith against faith nor civilization against civilization. It pits civilization against barbarism, the 21st century against the 9th century, those who sanctify life against those who glorify death.

Now the primitivism of the 9th century ought to be no match for the progress of the 21st century. The allure of freedom, the power of technology, the reach of communications should surely win the day. Ultimately, the past cannot triumph over the future.

And our future offers all nations magnificent bounties of hope because the pace of progress is growing, and it is growing exponentially. It took us centuries to get from the printing press to the telephone, decades to get from the telephone to the personal computer, and only a few years to get from the personal computer to the Internet.

What seemed impossible a few years ago is already outdated, and we can scarcely fathom the changes that are yet to come. We will crack the genetic code. We will cure the incurable. We will lengthen our lives. We will find a cheap alternative to fossil fuel and yes, we will clean up the planet.

I am proud that my country Israel is at the forefront of many of these advances—in science and technology, in medicine and biology, in agriculture and water, in energy and the environment. These innovations in my country and many of your countries offer humanity a sunlit future of unimagined promise.

But if the most primitive fanaticism can acquire the most deadly weapons, the march of history could be reversed for a time. And like the belated victory over the Nazis, the forces of progress and freedom will prevail only after a horrific toll of blood and fortune has been exacted from mankind.

This is why the greatest threat facing the world today is the marriage between religious fundamentalism and the weapons of mass destruction. The most urgent challenge facing this body today is to prevent the tyrants of Tehran from acquiring nuclear weapons.

Are the members of the United Nations up to that challenge? Will the international community confront a despotism that terrorizes its own people as they bravely stand up for freedom?

Will it take action against the dictators who stole an election in broad daylight and then gunned down Iranian protesters who died on the sidewalks and on the streets choking in their own blood? Will the international community thwart the world's most pernicious sponsor and practitioner of terrorism?

Above all, will the international community stop the terrorist regime of Iran from developing atomic weapons, thereby endangering the peace of the entire world?

The people of Iran are courageously standing up to this regime. People of goodwill around the world stand with them, as do thousands of people who have been protesting and demonstrating outside this hall all this week. Will the United Nations stand by their side?

Well, ladies and gentlemen, the jury is still out on the United Nations, and recent signs are not encouraging.

Rather than condemning the terrorists and their Iranian patrons, some here in the United Nations have condemned their victims. This is exactly what a recent UN report on Gaza did, falsely equating terrorists with those they targeted.

For eight long years, Hamas fired rockets, from Gaza on nearby Israeli cities and citizens—thousands of missiles, mortars—hurtling down from the sky on schools, homes, shopping centers, bus stops. Year after year, as these missiles were deliberately fired on our civilians, not a single UN resolution—not one!—was passed condemning those criminal attacks. We heard nothing—absolutely nothing—from the UN Human Rights Council, a misnamed institution if there ever was one.

In 2005, hoping to advance peace, Israel unilaterally withdrew from every inch of Gaza. It was very painful. We dismantled 21 settlements—really bedroom communities and farms. We uprooted over 8,000 Israelis. We just yanked them out from their homes. We did this because many in Israel believed that this would get peace.

Well, we didn't get peace. Instead we got an Iranian backed terror base fifty miles from Tel Aviv. Life in the Israeli towns and cities immediately next to Gaza became nothing less than a nightmare. You see the Hamas rocket launchers and the rocket attacks not only continued after we left, they actually increased dramatically. They increased tenfold. And again, the UN was silent—absolutely silent.

Finally, after eight years of this unremitting assault, Israel was forced to respond. But how should we have responded? Well, there is only one example in history of thousands of rockets being fired on a country's civilian population. This happened when the Nazis rocketed British cities during World War II. During that war, the allies leveled German cities, causing hundreds of thousands of casualties.

I'm not passing judgment. I'm stating a fact—a fact that is the product of the decision of great and honorable men—the leaders of Britain and the United States fighting an evil force in World War II.

It is also a fact that Israel chose to respond differently. Faced with an enemy committing a double war crime of firing on civilians while hiding behind civilians—Israel sought to conduct surgical strikes directed against the rocket launchers themselves. Now mind you that was no easy task because the terrorists were firing their missiles from homes and from schools. They were using mosques as weapons depots, as missile caches, and they were ferreting explosives in ambulances.

Israel, by contrast, tried to minimize casualties by urging Palestinian civilians to vacate the targeted areas. We dropped countless flyers over their homes. We sent thousands and thousands of text messages to the Palestinian residents. We made thousands and thousands of cellular phone calls urging them to vacate, to leave. Never has a country gone to such extraordinary lengths to remove the enemy's civilian population from harm's way.

Yet faced with a clear-cut case of aggressor and victim, whom do you think the United Nations Human Rights Council decided to condemn? Israel. A democracy legitimately defending itself against terror is morally hanged, drawn and quartered, and given an unfair trial to boot.

By these twisted standards, the UN Human Rights Council would have dragged Roosevelt and Churchill to the dock as war criminals. What a perversion of truth! What a perversion of justice!

Now, Delegates of the United Nations, and the Governments whom you represent, you have a decision to make. Will you accept this farce? Because if you do, the United Nations would revert to its darkest days, when the worst violators of human rights sat in judgment against the law-abiding democracies, when Zionism was equated with racism and when an automatic majority could be mustered to declare that the earth is flat.

If you had to choose a date when the United Nations began its descent, almost a free fall, and lost the respect of many thoughtful people in the international community, it was that decision in 1975 to equate Zionism with racism. Now this body has a choice to make. If it does not reject this biased report, it would vitiate itself: It would begin or re-begin the process of vitiating itself from its own relevance and importance.

But it would do something else; it would send a message to terrorists everywhere, saying: Terrorism pays; all you have to do is launch your attacks from densely populated areas, and you will win immunity.

And then a third thing: in condemning Israel, this body would also deal a mortal blow to peace. Let me explain why. When Israel left Gaza, many hoped that the missile attacks would stop. Others believed that even if they didn't stop, at the very least Israel would have made this gesture, an extraordinary gesture for peace, but it would have international legitimacy to exercise its right of self-defense if peace failed. What legitimacy? What self-defense?

The same UN that cheered Israel as we left Gaza, the same UN that promised to back our right of self-defense, now accuses us—my people, my country—of being war criminals? And for what? For acting responsibly in self-defense, for acting in a way that any country would act with a restraint unmatched by many. What a travesty!

Ladies and gentlemen, Israel justly defended itself against terror. This biased and unjust report provides a clear-cut test for all governments. Will you stand with Israel or will you stand with the terrorists?

We must know the answer to that question now. Now—not later. Because if Israel is again asked to take more risks for peace, we must know today that you will stand with us tomorrow. Only if we have the confidence that we can defend ourselves can we take further risks for peace.

And make no mistake about it. All of Israel wants peace. Any time an Arab leader genuinely wanted peace with us, we made peace. We made peace with Egypt led by Anwar Sadat. We made peace with Jordan led by King Hussein. And if the Palestinians truly want peace, I and my government, and my people, will make peace. But we want a genuine peace, a defensible peace, a permanent peace.

In 1947, this body voted to establish two states for two peoples—a Jewish state and an Arab state. The Jews accepted this resolution. The Arabs rejected it and invaded the embryonic Jewish state with hopes to annihilate it. We ask the Palestinians to finally do what they refused to do for 62 years: Say yes to a Jewish state! As simple, as clear, as elementary as that. Just as we are asked to recognize a nation-state for the Palestinian people, the Palestinians must be asked to recognize the nation-state of the Jewish people.

The Jewish people are not foreign conquerors in the Land of Israel. It is the land of our forefathers. Inscribed on the walls outside this building is the great Biblical vision of peace: "Nation shall not lift up sword against nation. They shall learn war no more." These words were spoken by the great Jewish prophet Isaiah 2,800 years ago as he walked in my country, in my city—in the hills of Judea and in the streets of Jerusalem. We are not strangers to this land. This is our homeland.

But as deeply connected as we are to our homeland, we also recognize that the Palestinians also live there and they want a home of their own. We want to live side by side with them, two free peoples living in peace, living in prosperity, living in dignity.

Peace, prosperity and dignity require one other element. We must have security. The Palestinians should have all the powers to govern themselves except a handful of powers that could endanger Israel.

This is why the Palestinian state must be effectively demilitarized. I say effectively, because we don't want another Gaza, or another South Lebanon, another Iranian backed terror base abutting Jerusalem and perched on the hills a few kilometers from Tel Aviv. We want peace.

I believe that with good will and with hard work, such a peace can be achieved. But it requires from all of us to roll back the forces of terror, led by Iran, that seek to destroy peace, that seek to eliminate Israel and to overthrow the world order. The question facing the international community is whether it is prepared to confront those forces or to accommodate them.

Over 70 years ago, Winston Churchill lamented what he called the “confirmed unteachability of mankind.” By that he meant the unfortunate habit of civilized societies to sleep and to slumber until danger nearly overtakes them.

Churchill bemoaned what he called the “want of foresight, the unwillingness to act when action will be simple and effective, the lack of clear thinking, the confusion of counsel until the emergency comes, until self-preservation strikes its jarring gong.”

Ladies and gentlemen, I speak here today in the hope that Churchill’s assessment of the “unteachability of mankind” is for once proven wrong. I speak here today in the hope that we can learn from history—that we can prevent danger in time.

In the spirit of the timeless words spoken to Joshua over 3,000 years ago, let us be strong and of good courage. Let us confront this peril, secure our future and, God willing, forge an enduring peace for generations to come.

[Translation from the Hebrew] “The Lord will give strength to His people, the Lord will bless His people with peace.”

IN HONOR AND REMEMBRANCE OF FRANCES WOLPAW

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today in honor and remembrance of Frances Wolpaw, devoted wife, mother and accomplished professor, whose passion, integrity and wisdom served to inspire, guide and motivate countless young lives, including my own.

Professor Wolpaw was a former assistant dean and communications professor at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio. Her scholarly research in speech and rhetoric led her to become a renown expert on the life and words of Abba Hillel Silver, a rabbi from northeast Ohio and advocate for issues affecting Israel on the national and international political stage.

She began her career in education in 1961 as a lecturer at Case Western Reserve University. In 1969, Professor Wolpaw was named assistant dean of Case Western’s former women’s college—the Flora Stone Mather College. Undaunted by the lack of opportunity for women in academia, Professor Wolpaw forged ahead, and her work earned her a high level of respect and admiration from students and faculty. Throughout her career, she had the loving support and encouragement from her husband, the late Ralph Wolpaw, who was a physician at Mt. Sinai Hospital of Cleveland.

Her accomplishments as professor and leader at Case Western Reserve University opened doors for countless women who would follow in her path. As a professor, Frances Wolpaw’s reputation reflected toughness, yet her high expectations for her students was also accented by kindness, fairness and her genuine concern for the welfare of her students. She taught by example, living each day with a sense of wonder, joy and integrity.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, please join me in honor and remembrance of Frances Wolpaw, whose joy for life, kind heart and scholarly work and guidance will forever reflect within the hearts and memories of those who loved and knew her best—especially her family, friends, and former students. I extend my heartfelt condolences to Professor Wolpaw’s sons—Jonathan, James and Daniel; her grandchildren and great-grandchildren; her sisters, and her extended family members and many friends. Frances Wolpaw’s loving devotion to her family and to her community—especially in the way of inspiring and guiding students of all ages—has made our community a better place, and she will be remembered always.

HONORING THE LIFE AND SERVICE OF JESSE DONALD PHELPS

HON. WALT MINNICK

OF IDAHO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. MINNICK. Madam Speaker, I would like to recognize and honor the legacy of Jesse Donald Phelps, Chief Warrant Officer 2nd Class, U.S. Army, an Idaho native who gave his life during the war in Vietnam. Nearly forty-four years after his helicopter crashed in the jungle near An Khe, his remains have been returned to his family.

Officer Phelps was born in Boise on October 1, 1937 and spent his childhood in Nampa. He stayed in Idaho as an adult and married Dee Phelps in 1955, the year that he graduated from high school. In time, he and Dee had four children, and he enlisted in the National Guard before becoming an army pilot.

On December 28, 1965, Officer Phelps was part of a four-person U.S. Army Huey helicopter crew charged with delivering munitions and supplies to a group of soldiers through the An Khe Pass, in Binh Dinh Province, South Vietnam. The routine mission was only meant to take 30 minutes, and 8–10 minutes after takeoff, the crew radioed their target company to say that the weather “doesn’t look bad.” It was the last communication from the plane, which disappeared into the trees shortly thereafter. Search efforts were fruitless, and Officer Phelps and his crew were later pronounced “Died While Missing/Body Not Recovered.” Ten years after her wedding, Dee Phelps received a telegram informing her that her husband was gone.

Thanks to more recent search efforts and DNA testing, Officer Phelps’s wife, children, and grandchildren can be certain that the head of his family has returned home once more. I and the people of Idaho value his sacrifice and honor Officer Phelps’s commitment to serving his country. We owe the strength of our nation to the steady courage of veterans like Officer Phelps.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE JOHN ADAMS HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1969

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of the John Adams High School Class of 1969 as they commemorate their 40 Year Reunion Celebration. The 1969 alumni of the John Adams’s Rebels will observe this momentous occasion on Saturday, August 8th, 2009.

John Adams High School opened in 1923 at East 116th Street and Corlett Avenue. The school was home to generations of Cleveland teenagers for decades, until it was closed in 1995, along with West Technical, and Aviation High Schools, to help cut the cities budget. John Adams High School was representative of the strong public education system, working class family environment and racial and cultural diversity that characterizes the city of Cleveland. After eleven years, John Adams High School was rebuilt and reopened in 2006.

The class of 1969 was a cohesive and talented group who has since moved throughout the country, spanning from California to New York. But they maintained a strong base in the Cleveland area. This group of alumni is clearly dedicated to each other, and they have gathered for several reunions throughout the decades since their graduation. This reunion will surely be another success as they come together again to celebrate each other and the significant and momentous occasions that have taken place throughout their lives.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, please join me in recognition of the John Adams High School Class of 1969 as they gather for their 40 Year Reunion Celebration. Their dedication to their past educational achievements and city of Cleveland is sure to provide for a joyous and memorable occasion.

BASIS CHARTER SCHOOL

HON. GABRIELLE GIFFORDS

OF ARIZONA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Ms. GIFFORDS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the nationally acclaimed BASIS Charter Schools, which provide outstanding educational services in Tucson, Arizona.

American students often lag behind their counterparts in other countries and we know that action must be taken to reverse this trend. BASIS Charter Schools give us a national model that demonstrates how we can effectively address this serious decline in educational performance.

Ten years ago, Michael and Olga Block embarked on their mission to create a “New American” school. They established the BASIS Charter Schools. The BASIS philosophy understands that math and science are essentially the languages of the 21st century.

These forward-thinking founders say that great teachers are responsible for the schools’ successes. At BASIS, the teachers hold themselves and their students to high standards and levels of accountability. Students engage in a demanding course of study that gives them the skills needed to compete in the new global economy.

BASIS has received many well deserved awards. The high school has been selected in each of the last four years by Newsweek magazine as one of the top 10 high schools in the United States. During the 2008–2009 academic year, BASIS students received perfect marks on the Arizona Instrument to Measure Standards (AIMS) exam. In 2009, BASIS was the only high school in Arizona with 100 percent of its students passing the AIMS exam in every subject tested.

Documentary filmmaker Robert A. Compton has produced a film about BASIS Schools entitled 2 Million Minutes: The 21st Century Solution. The title chronicles a student's journey in school from eighth grade until high school graduation. The filmmaker lauds BASIS schools saying that they "demonstrate that American students are capable of competing academically with the best in the world." The film will premiere in Tucson on October 1, 2009.

I am proud to acknowledge the great achievements of BASIS Charter Schools. The founders, the teachers, the students and their parents are leading the way for the critical improvements we must bring about in our public education system.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. J. GRESHAM BARRETT

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. BARRETT of South Carolina. Madam Speaker, unfortunately, I missed recorded votes on the House floor on Thursday, September 24, 2009.

Had I been present, I would have voted "no" on rollcall vote No. 735 (on agreeing to H. Res. 766, which provides for consideration of motions to suspend the rules), "aye" on rollcall vote No. 736 (on motion to suspend the rules and agree to H. Con. Res. 163), "aye" on rollcall vote No. 737 (on motion to suspend the rules and agree to H.R. 3631).

IN HONOR AND REMEMBRANCE OF SERGEANT RICHARD ALLYN WALTERS, JR.

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor and in remembrance of United States Army Sergeant Richard Allyn Walters, Jr. of Cleveland, Ohio. Sergeant Walters was a devoted husband, father, son, brother, uncle, cousin and friend who made the ultimate sacrifice on behalf of the country.

A graduate of Columbian High School in Tiffin, Ohio, Sergeant Walters followed in his father's footsteps and enlisted in the U.S. Navy. He was a ten-year Navy veteran and served in Operation Desert Storm. In 2006 Walters re-enlisted in the Army and became a licensed practical nurse (LPN) in March of 2009. He worked at Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, DC before being assigned to the 14th Combat Support Hospital in Fort Benning, Georgia.

Sergeant Walters' military service is a reflection of excellence, loyalty and achievement. He was awarded the Navy Fleet Marine Force Ribbon, Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal, Navy Good Conduct Medal, Combat Action Ribbon, National Defense Service Medal with Bronze Service Star, Southwest Asia Service Medal with Bronze Service Star, Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, Army Service Ribbon, Sea Service Deployment Ribbon, Overseas Service Ribbon and the Kuwait Liberation Medal. Sergeant Walters' pending posthumous awards and decorations include the Army Good Conduct Medal and Army Commendation Medal.

Madam Speaker, and colleagues, please join me in honoring and remembrance of Sergeant Richard Allyn Walters Jr., whose heroic actions, kindness and love for those closest to him will always be remembered. Sergeant Walters was a courageous United States soldier, and a devoted husband, father, son, brother, uncle, cousin and friend. I extend my deepest condolences to his wife, Stephanie; to his daughters, Rachel and Piper; to his mother, Margaret; to his brother Greg; to his sister-in-law Stacy and nephew Benjamin; and to his extended family and many friends. Sergeant Walters will live on within their hearts and memories for all time.

IN HONOR OF MR. BEN MOORE'S
LIFETIME OF SERVICE

HON. TOM PRICE

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Mr. Ben Moore, who this weekend will receive a Lifetime Service and Achievement Award from the Johnson Ferry Baptist Church in my district.

Mr. Moore was born in Texarkana, Arkansas on October 24, 1913. In 1920, his family fled the Dust Bowl and made their way to Atlanta, Georgia. At the age of 14, a young Ben Moore took a job as an office boy at the First National Bank of Atlanta, beginning what would become a long and distinguished career at First National.

Mr. Moore served his country with valor during World War II, joining the Army Air Corps on Oct. 1, 1942 and seeing service in Italy. He returned to Atlanta after the war and was admitted to the State Bar of Georgia in 1949. He has been a member of the bar for 60 years and continues to practice law to this very day.

In 1953 Mr. Moore was named as one of "Atlanta's 100 Leaders of Tomorrow" by Time Magazine. He served on the Atlanta Board of Aldermen, the precursor to today's City Council, during Mayor Ivan Allen's first term. During this period, the City of Atlanta saw numerous changes including the arrival of the Atlanta Braves, the opening of construction on Interstate 285, and the beginning of the transformation of Zoo Atlanta and Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport into the institutions we recognize today.

Mr. Moore became a Baptist in 1957 when he and his two daughters were Baptized by Dr. Monroe Swilley, then pastor of Second Ponce de Leon Baptist Church. He is a graduate of Tech High, the Woodrow Wilson College of Law, and the American Institute of Banking.

Mr. Moore will celebrate his 96th birthday next month. When he isn't practicing law, he enjoys the company of his two daughters, three grandsons, and one great grandson in the Atlanta area.

Throughout his life, Ben Moore has answered the call to serve his family, his community, and his country. I'm proud to honor him today in the United States House of Representatives.

RECOGNIZING THE DESIGNATION OF SEPTEMBER AS CRANIOFACIAL ACCEPTANCE
MONTH

HON. ERIC CANTOR

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. CANTOR. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the designation of the month of September as Craniofacial Acceptance Month.

September has been designated as Craniofacial Acceptance Month to raise awareness and acceptance of the courageous children and adults who live daily with craniofacial deformities. These brave patients and their families often face significant medical challenges over the course of their lives. While the commonly known cleft palate or cleft lip condition may call for a simple surgical fix, there are many other unique and complex anomalies which can require extensive surgeries throughout a child's developmental years.

In the 7th District of Virginia, a young constituent of mine named Chase has a moderately severe craniofacial deformity. At the age of 9, he has already had 28 surgeries and hospitalizations to improve his ability to breathe, walk, see, hear, and talk. He will need more surgeries as he grows. Despite his many challenges, Chase and his family celebrate his growth and milestones with joy. His unique medical needs do not stop him from riding the bus to school and making friends. His big smile and enthusiasm for life have enabled Chase and his family to approach each day with a positive outlook.

This month also marks the 20th anniversary of the Children's Craniofacial Association, an incredible charitable organization that offers a network of resources and assistance to families with children who have deformities. The association's mission is to "widen the circle of acceptance," through promoting the message that "beyond the face, there is a heart." I would like to commend the CCA for connecting Chase, his family and other families across America with resources to improve the lives of these patients. I encourage all of my colleagues to join me in raising awareness of the needs of these extraordinary individuals.

EARL DANIELS

HON. JOHN SHIMKUS

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. SHIMKUS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor World War II veteran Earl Daniels of Strasburg, Illinois, as Strasburg American Legion Post #289 holds a dinner in his honor this Saturday, October 3, 2009.

Mr. Daniels was drafted into the United States Army at the age of 18. After he had completed training he joined the 28th Infantry Division. His unit served admirably in France, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Germany.

In November 1944 he was taken prisoner and held in Cologne, Germany. He was later sent to Stallag 3G, near Berlin. After his release he returned home to the United States and was eventually discharged.

I am pleased to honor Mr. Daniels and all of our brave veterans for their service to our great nation. May God continue to bless him and may God bless America.

STUDENT AID AND FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY ACT

HON. BETTY McCOLLUM

OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Ms. McCOLLUM. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of the Student Aid and Fiscal Responsibility Act (H.R. 3221), which will end the giveaway of $87 billion in corporate welfare to financial institutions for processing paperwork. Those funds instead will be reinvested to expand the Pell Grant program, increase assistance to community colleges, and support early learning to ensure more low-income children are prepared to start kindergarten. A savings of $10 billion will also be used for deficit reduction.

H.R. 3221 terminates the Family Federal Education Loan (FFEL) program. Instead, all new federal student lending will originate through the existing Federal Direct Loan Program. This change will result in a more reliable system for students and their families by avoiding risks in the private lending market, which were exposed in the recent financial crisis. Taxpayers will benefit from a more efficient student loan system because eliminating the unnecessary middleman will produce $87 billion in savings for taxpayers over the next 10 years.

The Student Aid and Fiscal Responsibility Act also makes strategic investments to allow more students to attend college and graduate with less debt. The Pell Grant Scholarship program is increased by $40 billion. As a result, more than $75.5 million in additional funding will be provided to students in Minnesota's Fourth Congressional District over the next decade. Additionally, this legislation strengthens and expands the Perkins Loan Program, and it helps families by simplifying the complicated and time-consuming Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)—the bill enables families to apply for federal student aid using their tax form.

America's community colleges are another priority investment in H.R. 3221. At a time when millions of Americans are seeking new employment opportunities, this bill makes significant new funding available to retrain workers, prepare students for 21st century jobs and introduce students to post-secondary education. These investments will improve the quality of education for over 100,000 students that are enrolled in Minnesota community colleges.

This legislation is a historic opportunity to invest in education while, at the same time, reducing the federal deficit. Unfortunately, the Republican minority is trying to distract attention from the bill by offering a motion to recommit that prohibits Federal funding to the Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now (ACORN). ACORN, a nonprofit organization that works to empower low-income Americans, does not receive $1 of Federal funding in H.R. 3221. ACORN is currently under investigation for possible wrongdoing—these inquiries should proceed and final judgments should be made. No organization found guilty of criminal conduct should continue to receive taxpayer support. However, it is inappropriate and likely unconstitutional for the House of Representatives to pre-judge the outcome of a formal investigation by prohibiting Federal funding. I strongly urge my colleagues to join me in opposing this political ploy and in supporting passage of H.R. 3221.

CELEBRATING THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF DALLAS' POLITICAL CONGRESS OF AFRICAN-AMERICAN WOMEN

HON. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Ms. EDDIE BERNICE JOHNSON of Texas. Madam Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I rise today to recognize the achievements and celebrate the anniversary of Dallas' Political Congress of African-American Women. This organization has been an integral part of the Dallas community for 25 years, and I am proud of the work its members have done in the group's quarter-century of existence. In addition to keeping the community informed about candidates running for elected office, the Congress registers voters and hosts forums for candidates so that they are accessible to citizens.

The Political Congress of African-American Women and organizations like it are incredibly important for the well-being of our communities. These groups offer opportunities for civic and political leadership to people who traditionally would not have been able to serve in such capacities. By engaging their communities, these organizations reflect our democratic values and encourage everyone to be engaged in the political process.

I commend Dallas' Political Congress of African-American Women for their civic leadership and encourage my colleagues to join me in recognizing this organization's 25th anniversary. Truly, the Dallas community has benefited greatly from the Congress' efforts, and I commend all of its members on their hard work.

BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH 200TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. JOHN SHIMKUS

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. SHIMKUS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the Bethel Baptist Church in Caseyville, Illinois.

Bethel Baptist Church was founded in 1809 and immediately became a leading institution on the Illinois frontier. Bethel has been an active force for positive change since its inception, advocating abolition nearly 60 years before the ratification of the 13th Amendment. The first pastor at Bethel, James Lemen, Sr., was such a strong abolitionist that the church's original constitution prohibited any member from owning slaves or promoting slavery. As the abolition movement grew, the church became an important part of the Underground Railroad.

As Bethel Baptist Church celebrates its proud history, it can look to a bright future. While the congregation has grown and changed over the past two centuries, it has never forgotten its mission in the community and continues to work for a better tomorrow.

I would like to congratulate Reverend Michael D. Evans and the entire Bethel Baptist Church family on their 200th anniversary. I wish them the best as they continue to build on their rich history.

A TRIBUTE TO THE HONORABLE ROSEMARY STASEK

HON. ANNA G. ESHOO

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Ms. ESHOO. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the extraordinary life and work of my friend and fellow public servant Rosemary Stasek who passed away at the age of 46 on September 24, 2009, in Afghanistan. Rosemary is survived by her beloved husband, Morné Du Preez of South Africa, her parents Patricia and Andrew Stasek of McAdoo, Pennsylvania and many other loved ones.

Rosemary was born in 1963 and raised in northeast Pennsylvania. She graduated from Cornell University with a Bachelor's Degree in Economics, the first person in her family to graduate from college. She was a Dean's List student and manager of the football and wrestling teams.

Rosemary served two terms on the City Council in Mountain View, California, located in the 14th Congressional District. She was elected to her first term in 1996, re-elected in 2000, served as Vice Mayor in 1999 and as Mayor for the year 2000. She represented the City in many regional, statewide and national forums, specializing in issues pertaining to housing and homeland security. She was committed to many City initiatives and fought to protect the environment, youth programs and services, diversity, parks and trails and the public open space. She served on the City Council at a time when they took critical steps to meet the need for affordable housing in the community, downtown revitalization, increased transportation options, and new business developments. Current Mayor Margaret Abe-Koga notes, "Our City was blessed to have known such a dedicated and talented person. Our community has benefitted from her tireless efforts and leadership on behalf of everyone, but especially those who are most in need. This is a loss that is felt throughout Mountain View and countless parts of the world she has touched . . ."

In addition to serving on the Mountain View City Council, Rosemary had a broad history of political involvement, especially women's issues. She served on the Board of Planned Parenthood Advocates Mar Monte and the Santa Clara County Commission on the Status of Women. Her honors included being named a Distinguished Woman of the 14th Congressional District, the Religious Coalition for Reproductive Rights Freedom of Religion Award, and the Alameda National Women's Political Caucus Pro-Choice Champion Award. She was also a nominee for the Silicon Valley Women of Achievement Award and was a candidate for the California State Assembly in March 2002.

In 1999 she was selected by the Secretary of Defense to participate in the Joint Civilian Orientation Conference, which took her to military installations across the country and aboard an aircraft carrier in the Pacific Ocean. She broadened her knowledge of military affairs, especially issues involving women serving in the Armed Forces. She served as a member of the U.S. Air Force Space Commanders Group.

Rosemary also worked for over a decade in the computer industry as a web developer and system administrator for prominent high tech firms in Silicon Valley. As always, she was dedicated to making a difference for the next generation and spent six years as an instructor at De Anza Community College teaching Introduction to Microcomputer Networks. She was also a certified substitute high school teacher for social sciences, English and special education classes, and taught in the Palo Alto Unified School District.

Rosemary's interest in international issues took her to Nepal, Ecuador, France, Britain, Holland, Germany, Italy, The United Arab Emirates, The Czech and Slovak Republics, Canada, Mexico, Thailand, Azerbaijan, South Africa, Venezuela, Tanzania and Vietnam. In 1998 she traveled to Cuba as a member of a special women's delegation.

Rosemary lived in Kabul, Afghanistan working on reconstruction and development projects. She first traveled to Afghanistan in May of 2002 as a member of a delegation of young Afghan-Americans working on reconstruction. She returned home after 2 weeks, but decided to return in June 2003 to work on a project to improve conditions for women in the Kabul prison, and in March 2004 she worked in maternity hospitals. In June 2004 she taught preservation, and in 2005 she spent most of the year living and working there as the logistics manager for the Kabul Beauty School. She returned again in February 2006 and had since resided in Kabul full time working on women's projects. Rosemary was also the Founder and Executive Director of A Little Help, a nonprofit that she began in 2002 which provides humanitarian aid in Afghanistan with a focus on women.

Ever the fighter, she remained in Kabul to continue her work even after she was diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis. It was there that she met Morné du Preez, a South African who works as a private contractor protecting diplomats. They fell in love and were married two years ago. She was an extraordinary leader, teacher, advocate and mentor with a heart of gold who inspired passion in those around her to think and see beyond themselves and make a difference in the world.

Madam Speaker, I ask the entire House of Representatives to join me in honoring Rosemary Stasek. Through her countless contributions to her family, friends, colleagues, local community and the international community, she has left a lasting legacy of compassion, empowerment and excellence. She represented the best of America, strengthened our country and made the world a better place.

HONORING RONALD BOEHM ON HIS
OF THE FOURTH DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS AMERICAN LEGION

HON. DANIEL LIPINSKI

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. LIPINSKI. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Commander Ronald Boehm on the occasion of his installation as Commander of the Fourth District of Illinois American Legion.

Ronald Boehm served as Commander of American Legion McKinley Post 231 eight times and his exemplary service is a model of leadership and devotion. In the summer of 2007, Commander Boehm conceptualized and aided in the construction of a beautiful and moving monument to all war veterans, especially those from Post 231 who gave the ultimate sacrifice for our nation. This monument sits outside the McKinley Post and is visible to all who pass by on 35th Street.

In 2001, as Commander, Ronald Boehm led a fundraising effort for the widows and orphans of policemen and firefighters. The fundraiser was a great success and amassed over $10,000 for the cause.

Even outside of his work with the American Legion, Ronald Boehm has dedicated his life to the service of others, and recently retired after 40 years as a Chicago firefighter. His outstanding civic service was recognized this year by the McKinley Park Civic Association, which named Ronald Boehm "Man of the Year."

Today, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing the years of exceptional service and dedication of Commander Ronald Boehm. We acknowledge his service to our nation and to his community, and we congratulate his well-deserved installation as Fourth District Commander.

RIPPLE EFFECT MAKES FUND FOR NASA A WISE DECISION

HON. PETE OLSON

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. OLSON. Madam Speaker, I would like to submit the following column which appeared in the Houston Chronicle on September 17, 2009 from the Bay Area Houston Partnership.

[From the Houston Chronicle, Sept. 17, 2009]

RIPPLE EFFECT MAKES FUND FOR NASA A WISE DECISION

(By Bob Mitchell)

The highly anticipated report from the Augustine Committee has been released. The panel is to be commended on writing such a thorough review of U.S. human space flight options in a short period of time. The report identified various alternatives for NASA's human space flight program. While each offers a varying degree of human space flight options, they all rely on humans as an integral part of space exploration. Why is this significant for the Johnson Space Center and its many contractors? We are home to human space flight.

Within the next few months, decisions will be made by the White House and Congress on which alternative is best for the future of NASA. Regardless of the decisions made, if adequate funding is not provided, we will continue to see erosion in the U.S. space program, and it won't be long before we relinquish our position as the world's number one space-faring country to a more ambitious and forward-looking nation.

The alternatives present unparalleled opportunities for the United States to continue to expand its leadership role in the international space community. The International Space Station is an excellent example of how much can be accomplished when multinational resources are engaged toward a common goal. We, as a nation, can choose to continue our investment in scientific discovery and international relations or we can choose to lose our leadership position to Russia, China, India or Japan. Insufficient funding for the world's premier space program will undoubtedly erode our leadership role with significant consequences for our security and our competitive position in the world. With our loss of leadership in other high-tech industries, do we want to give up this one as well? Do we want to have to buy our rides to space from a foreign government? This should be unacceptable to us as a nation.

What will it take to keep America first in flight? The Augustine report states, "Meaningful human exploration is possible under a less constrained budget, ramping to approximately $3 billion per year above the FY 2010 guidance in total resources." Compared to recent government expenditures, this is not that much to invest, especially considering the return to the American taxpayers on this investment. According to a recent congressional oversight report, we have spent $74 billion to help the nation's auto industry, an industry that has relied on the technology developed in space to enhance its product. Investing the same amount in NASA would ensure America's pre-eminent position in human space flight for the next 25 years.

Why do this? Why fund NASA to the tune of an additional $3 billion or more per year? Go beyond the obvious and consider the ripple effect. Arguably, perhaps, the space industry is the only industry in the world that consistently creates new technology. Our cars and trucks are lighter, stronger and safer due to NASA technology. Computers, cell phones, GPS and many life-saving medical advancements all have roots in the space industry.

The human factor is equally important. Generations of our young people have been inspired by NASA. The promise of working in America's space program has, for the past 50 years, influenced students to go into science, technology, engineering and math careers. For example, 35 percent of the Orion Crew Exploration Vehicle program is composed of young professionals.

Consider this. We will have a seven-year gap where no Americans are launched into space on American rockets. At no time in our history of space flight have we experienced a gap of this magnitude. Think for a moment of the loss of inspiration to millions of our young people that can never be recovered. Think of the lost opportunities to the U.S. in terms of high-technology innovations and breakthroughs that will not occur when students choose non-technical careers. Do we break our promises to our nation's children and young professionals by opting to take the easy route and not provide much-needed funding to NASA's human space flight program? This, too, should be unacceptable to us as a nation.

The U.S. is unquestionably the world's leader in space exploration, something that can no longer be said about many industries we led at one time. The question remains, are we willing to give this up for the lack of a very reasonable investment?

Congress and the president are faced with tough choices. Fully supporting human space flight, on the other hand, should be an easy choice. By making the choice to provide the additional funding necessary for a robust U.S. space exploration program, government and private industry jobs will be retained and created, international relationships will be secured and strengthened with America leading the way, and our youth will continue to dream of exploring the universe, taking those steps necessary to do so. Not only is this the most reasonable course of action, it's the right thing to do—for America and for the world.

HONORING THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE WEST END SILVER POINT CHURCH

HON. BART GORDON

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. GORDON of Tennessee. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the 100th anniversary of the founding of the West End Church of Christ congregation in Silver Point, Tennessee.

In 1909, Pastor George Phillip "G.P." Bowser relocated the Laurel Hill congregation to Silver Point and established the Putnam County Normal and Industrial Orphanage to provide housing, education, vocation, and religious instruction to the African American children of the region. In 1913, the school became the Silver Point Christian Institute, educating grades one through eight. A small printing press was operated by the school, which led to the development of the Christian Echo—a publication that is still printed today.

By 1915, the church and school combined into the West End Church of Christ Silver Point. A new building was constructed, which still stands to this day. In December 2007, the building was included in the National Register of Historic Places by the U.S. National Park Service.

The geographically isolated Highland Rim area of Middle Tennessee has always focused on small-scale agriculture and timber resources grouped into small towns. Farms were tended by individual families with little outside help. Until the early 20th century, these small communities in Silver Point had few religious organizations and even fewer schools. Classes were often taught in buildings that could not afford proper maintenance or enough supplies for students.

The school that Pastor Bowser established in 1915 provided the young children of the community with educational opportunities never before seen in the area. Though the school closed in 1959, the church remains active.

Many prominent and nationally-acclaimed leaders have been personally involved with the church, including Sam Womack, Alexander Campbell, Marshall Keeble, Henry Clay, J.S. Winston, R.N. Hogan, G.E. Stewart, and Levi Kennedy.

Through its 100-year history, the West End Church of Christ in Silver Point has provided a place of identity and congregation for the African American community of western Putnam County. I congratulate the congregation on its centennial anniversary.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. JOHN CONYERS, JR.

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. CONYERS. Madam Speaker, on September 29, due to personal reasons, I was unable to cast the three votes that were called on that day. Had I been present I would have voted "yes" on rollcall votes 740 (H.R. 905); 741 (H. Res. 16) and 742 (H.R. 2997).

102ND ANNIVERSARY OF THE CROATIAN SONS LODGE 170

HON. PETER J. VISCLOSKY

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. VISCLOSKY. Madam Speaker, it is my distinct honor to congratulate the Croatian Sons Lodge Number 170 of the Croatian Fraternal Union on the festive occasion of its 102nd anniversary and Golden Member banquet on Sunday, October 11, 2009.

This year, the Croatian Fraternal Union will hold this gala event at the Croatian Center in Merrillville, Indiana. Traditionally, the anniversary celebration entails a formal recognition of the Union's Golden Members, those who have achieved fifty years of membership. This year's honorees, who have attained fifty years of membership, include: John B. Belork, Richard J. Bundeck, Victoria Ann Burson, Robert J. Erdelac, Michael Grasa, Richard F. Grcevic, Joanne James, Peter P. Jay, Mary Ellen Kaegebein, Mirjana M. Kirincic, Della Klobuchar, Lawrence Labash, Slavko Ladic, Miyo George Mrkonich, Joan Marie Pope, Frances Razumich, Rudolph J. Rubesha, Jr., Peter George Tarpo, and Valerie Trtan.

These loyal and dedicated individuals share this prestigious honor with approximately 489 additional Lodge members who have previously attained this important designation.

This memorable day will begin with a mass at Saint Joseph the Worker Croatian Catholic Church in Gary, Indiana, with the Reverend Father Stephen Loncar officiating. The banquet will begin at 1:00 p.m.

Madam Speaker, I urge you and my other distinguished colleagues to join me in commending Lodge President John Miksich, and all members of the Croatian Fraternal Union Lodge Number 170, for their loyalty and radiant display of passion for their ethnicity. The Croatian community has played a key role in enriching the quality of life and culture of Northwest Indiana. It is my hope that this year will bring renewed hope and prosperity for all members of the Croatian community and their families.

EARMARK DECLARATION

HON. CHARLES W. DENT

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. DENT. Madam Speaker, pursuant to the House Republican Leadership standards on earmarks, I am submitting the following information regarding a project that is listed in the Conference Report of H.R. 3183, Energy and Water Development and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, FY2010:

Bill Number: Conference Report—H.R. 3183, Energy and Water Development and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, FY2010, Account: Department of Energy, EERE, Title: Advance Power Cube for Wind Power and Grid Regulation Services, Legal Name of Requesting Entity: East Penn Manufacturing, Address of Requesting Entity: Deka Road, Lyon Station, PA 19536, Description of Request: This funding will support design, testing, fabrication and implementation of new advanced battery energy storage technology that will be used to balance the fluctuating generation of electricity in wind systems and improve the efficiency of the current electricity grid. This technology will produce a more affordable, cleaner, recyclable and more efficient energy storage option than what is currently available for wind power farms and grid regulation services.

H.R. 3548, UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION EXTENSION ACT OF 2009

HON. ROBERT J. WITTMAN

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. WITTMAN. Madam Speaker, on September 22, 2009 the House of Representatives passed H.R. 3548, the Unemployment Compensation Extension Act of 2009 with my support. I voted for H.R. 3548, legislation that would extend unemployment benefits by 13 weeks for states with unemployment rates in excess of 8.5%. Our nation is currently facing significant economic challenges, including the highest unemployment rates in over twenty years. With nearly five million Americans and 290,000 Virginians out of work, I believe extending unemployment benefits was the right thing to do.

Several localities in Virginia's First Congressional District experienced unemployment above 8% this summer. However, I am disappointed that H.R. 3548 would not extend benefits in Virginia because the states unemployment rate is currently below 7%. This bill's 8% threshold needlessly overlooks struggling families in Virginia. I would like to see this measure amended to extend the same unemployment benefits to all Americans regardless of where they live.

I understand that unemployment is putting significant strains on local families. That's why I recently hosted a First District Job Fair featuring state, federal, and private employers. Hundreds of First District residents attended the successful job fair and are now on their way into the workforce.

IN RECOGNITION OF JULIE CAIN BURKHARD, CHAIRMAN OF THE NATIONAL PANHELLENIC CONFERENCE

HON. PETE SESSIONS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. SESSIONS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the work of an outstanding individual, Julie Cain Burkhard, as she concludes her distinguished work as Chairman of the National Panhellenic Conference (NPC). This conference represents 26 sororities with a member base of more than four million women at 655 campuses and 4,500 alumnae chapters in the United States and Canada. Sororities and fraternities are the largest values-based organizations on college campuses and among the most successful leadership development programs for college students. As Chairman, Julie has led NPC's effort to provide support and guidance for its members, and acted as one of NPC's leading voices on contemporary issues of sorority life.

As a proud University of Georgia alumna and past national president of her sorority Alpha Chi Omega, Julie's unyielding passion for Greek life is reflected in her lifetime commitment to collegiate leadership. Under her leadership, NPC has increased their membership, created web-based advocacy tools, and furthered the organizational effectiveness of the conference.

Julie has been a great resource and advocate for women worldwide. Her long-term commitment to her Alpha Chi Omega chapter, its international organization, and the entire Greek community are tokens of the leadership, dedication, and loyalty that make her a role model for women leaders and incredibly deserving of this honor.

I have personally had the opportunity to work with Julie over the years as she has come to Washington to tirelessly advocate for students across the country. We have worked together on the passage of the Collegiate Housing and Infrastructure Act, a bill that would help improve not-for-profit housing for college students, as well as legislation dedicated to advancing college fire safety standards and student financial aid.

The National Panhellenic Conference is a stronger organization as a result of her unwavering leadership and steadfast commitment to the lives of Greek women. I am pleased to honor Julie Cain Burkhard's exemplary service and wish her all the best in her future endeavors.

TRIBUTE TO MR. JIMMY "PO WOODS" LEATHERWOOD, ENTREPRENEUR AND OWNER, WOODS, INC. OF CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

HON. BOBBY L. RUSH

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. RUSH. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a great entrepreneur, community leader, humanitarian and family man, the late Jimmy Leatherwood who made his heavenly transition on Sunday, September 27, 2009. It is often difficult to find words to express the depth of one's feelings with the passing of a good friend and constituent.

Mr. Leatherwood served with distinction for nearly 30 years as a member of the Cook County, Illinois Sheriff's Department. He was a Board Member of the Westside Association for Community Action of Chicago, a member of the famed Rat Pack-Chicago Chapter and served on the School Council of a local Chicago Public School. He worked tirelessly with various organizations to provide scholarship opportunities to young people and annually donated food to those in need in his home town of Leland, Mississippi.

Jimmy dedicated his life toward making a difference in the lives of other people. He was a shining example of how God can use a life to help make this world a better place. Indeed, many who have had the privilege of knowing him have come to recognize that they are a much better person as a result of his life.

Madam Speaker, I want to encourage his devoted wife Joann, their daughter Nazaree, the entire family and the many friends of Mr. Jimmy Leatherwood to always remember to look to the hills from which comes all of their help, trusting that their help will surely come from the Lord. I am truly blessed to have known and worked with him. I am honored to pay tribute to this outstanding gentleman.

COMMEMORATING NATIONAL JOB CORPS DAY

HON. HARRY E. MITCHELL

OF ARIZONA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. MITCHELL. Madam Speaker, I rise today to commemorate National Job Corps Day on Capitol Hill, which takes place September 23, 2009. This day-long event will recognize the 45-year anniversary of Job Corps, which has been dedicated to helping young people launch stable careers.

Since its start, Job Corps has been committed to helping young people, ages 16–24, get connected with the resources to be successful in the workforce. With 123 campuses, Job Corps is a nationwide tool for many young Americans to gain the essential education and work skills. I am pleased to have such a strong and active branch of the organization right here in Maricopa County, serving young people across the valley.

At its core, Job Corps exemplifies the importance and true value of education. As a former teacher, I believe education is the foundation for preparing our youth to thrive in the future. Through efforts like Job Corps, we can work together to make higher education and careers attainable for all youth.

Madam Speaker, please join me in celebrating the 45th Anniversary of Phoenix Job Corps.

ABILITY ONE

HON. DON YOUNG

OF ALASKA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Madam Speaker, today I rise to recognize a program, which in the last year, has helped more than 40,000 Americans who are blind or who have severe disabilities gain skills and training that has ultimately led to gainful employment; The AbilityOne Program.

The AbilityOne Program harnesses the purchasing power of the Federal Government to buy products and services from participating community-based nonprofit agencies that are dedicated to training and employing individuals with disabilities. This program affords Americans with disabilities the opportunity to acquire job skills and training, receive good wages and benefits, and gain greater independence and quality of life.

This comes in a segment of the population that has suffered from significant unemployment. But programs such as AbilityOne have come a long way in helping to bring people with disabilities into a working society. I am proud to acknowledge that REACH Inc. has played an active role since 1977 in helping employ people with severe disabilities and is one of the community partners to the AbilityOne Program within my state.

The history and mission of REACH Inc. stands as a true example of why this program is a winning proposition for all parties involved. REACH Inc. grew out of the dream of a group of local families who wanted to organize activities for their children with disabilities. Over 32 years ago, REACH Inc. opened its doors in the basement of the Resurrection Lutheran Church in Juneau. What started out as a small, family-run group meeting in a church basement has developed into an agency employing 200 people and serving over 400 individuals.

The direct impact of these organizations on the lives of Americans with disabilities cannot be overstated. For an individual with a severe disability who has never had the opportunity to hold a job, be independent, participate in the community, or play an important role in society; the AbilityOne Program and organizations like REACH Inc. are invaluable.

Madam Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I extend my support to the AbilityOne Program. I also want to commend the dedication and commitment to the REACH Inc. Executive Director, Mr. Richard Fagundes, and his staff for helping individuals who are blind or have a severe disability find employment. Their work helps people live fuller lives and become more active members of society. I also commend each AbilityOne employee who works every day to improve their lives, support our Government, and make our country a better place to live.

COMMENDING HOMELAND SECURITY DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES AND ANTI-TERRORISM PARTNERS

SPEECH OF

HON. PETER T. KING

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. KING of New York. Mr. Speaker, I would like to express my support for the resolution introduced by my colleague from New York, Congresswoman CLARKE. House Resolution 731, of which I am a cosponsor, recognizing the month of September as National Preparedness Month, also commends the employees of the Department of Homeland Security; other federal agencies; state, local, and tribal government officials; emergency response personnel; and law enforcement officers who defend our nation against acts of terrorism.

New York's 3rd Congressional District is home to many of the Department of Homeland Security's employees, including those who work at JFK and LaGuardia airports and in the Coast Guard. We are all grateful for the important work they carry out, in partnership with local law enforcement officers and other first responders, to protect our communities, particularly in light of several recently foiled terrorist plots.

Earlier this month, we commemorated the eighth anniversary of the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001. In these times, we cannot afford to be complacent, or to forget what it means to prepare ourselves, our families, and our communities to respond to the threat of terrorism. All Americans can help promote emergency preparedness by taking steps such as assembling emergency supply kits, creating family emergency plans, and staying informed about possible emergencies in their area.

We have come a long way since September 11th, but there is still much more to do to keep America safe. House Resolution 731 helps remind all Americans of the steps they can take to be prepared, and honors those on the front lines who tirelessly work to keep our communities safe.

HONORING THE THOMAS JEFFERSON NATIONAL ACCELERATION FACILITY ON ITS 25TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. ROBERT J. WITTMAN

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. WITTMAN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Thomas Jefferson National Acceleration Facility in Newport News, VA, on the occasion of its 25th anniversary. Since its creation, the Jefferson Lab has welcomed scientists and researchers from across the globe to study the matter and forces which build and drive our universe.

The Jefferson Lab is committed to educating the next generation of scientists by increasing the number of teachers who have strong backgrounds in math and science, and in doing so increase student motivation in the subjects of engineering and technology.

Current Secretary of Energy and Nobel Prize winning physicist Dr. Steven Chu joined the lab in celebrating this momentous occasion. On Tuesday, September 29, Secretary Chu visited with the lab's scientists, and discussed the future of atomic research.

Recently, the Jefferson Lab began an expansion of its accelerated electron beam, and I was glad to attend the groundbreaking of this project in April 2009. This project creates a collision of atoms so that scientists may study protons and neutrons at the smallest level. The work done at the Lab is known around the world as second-to-none, and this initiative, also known as the 12GeV Upgrade, will ensure the Lab's worldwide leadership position for the next twenty years.

I continue to be impressed by the efforts of the men and women from the Jefferson Lab and their desire to lead the Nation and the world in research and innovation. I urge my colleagues to join me in congratulating the Thomas Jefferson National Acceleration Facility on its 25th anniversary.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE CITY OF RICHARDSON'S 2009 NATIONAL NIGHT OUT

HON. PETE SESSIONS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. SESSIONS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the City of Richardson and the Richardson Police Department for its efforts to combat crime and its 2009 National Night Out on October 13, 2009.

Since its inception twenty-six years ago, the National Night Out program has successfully reached out to numerous communities nationwide in its mission to raise crime and drug prevention awareness. The City of Richardson has utilized innovative methods to encourage citywide participation such as organizing neighborhood block parties, programs for the Hispanic and Asian communities, and activities at various senior centers. These gatherings unite citizens, law enforcement agencies, businesses, civic organizations, and local officials. It shows their resolve to fight back against criminals and their commitment to keeping our neighborhoods safe. The City of Richardson's high participation has resulted in their being the award winner for Category #3 in the Nation. National Night Out has helped the Police strengthen neighborhood spirit and build partnerships within the local community.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in commending the City of Richardson and the Richardson Police Department for their hard work and dedication. Their efforts have made our community a safer and better place.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE PASSING OF DON PRIEST

HON. JEFF MILLER

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. MILLER of Florida. Madam Speaker, I rise today to join in the celebration of the life of Don Priest, a local legend in my district in Northwest Florida. For over four decades, Don delivered broadcast news and his daily editorials to people in the Florida Panhandle and Alabama Gulf Coast.

Don's years of broadcasting made him one of the most recognized voices in the area. As news director of the radio station WCOA for 41 years, he knew the importance of keeping people in the area informed. He also recognized that the news is not one-sided, and as the first host of Pensacola Speaks, a local radio call-in show, he was instrumental to letting countless people over the years discuss what was on their minds, be it a national, local, or a personal issue. Don opened his radio show to anything people wanted to discuss, and people daily instantly recognized his voice as he took to the airwaves.

Don's radio broadcasting covered more than just the news. On Friday nights, his distinctive voice came on the air to cover local high school football games. He was a news director who was involved with all aspects of the news, and he worked hard to include people of all ages and walks of life in the community. Don's tireless work made sure that events in the area received the notice they deserved.

Madam Speaker, Northwest Florida will long remember the legacy of Don Priest. My thoughts and prayers are with him, and many will be forever grateful for Don having touched their lives. Northwest Florida has suffered a great loss, but we will fondly recall his voice on the airwaves for a long time to come.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE CITY OF DALLAS AND 2009 NATIONAL NIGHT OUT

HON. PETE SESSIONS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. SESSIONS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the City of Dallas and the Dallas Police Department for its efforts to combat crime and its 2009 National Night Out on October 6, 2009.

Since its inception twenty-six years ago, the National Night Out program has successfully reached out to numerous communities nationwide in its mission to raise crime and drug prevention awareness. The City of Dallas has utilized innovative methods to encourage citywide participation such as organizing neighborhood block parties, safety fairs, visits from police, contests, and rallies. These gatherings unite citizens, law enforcement agencies, businesses, civic organizations, and local officials. It shows their resolve to fight back against criminals and their commitment to keeping our neighborhoods safe. National Night Out has helped the Dallas Police strengthen neighborhood spirit and build partnerships within the local community.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in commending the City of Dallas and the Dallas Police Department for their hard work and dedication. Their efforts have made our community a safer and better place.

RECOGNIZING THE TOWN OF ORANGE AS IT CELEBRATES ITS 275TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. ERIC CANTOR

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. CANTOR. Madam Speaker, I am proud to recognize the Town of Orange as it celebrates its 275th anniversary.

The Town of Orange is located northeast of Charlottesville, near James Madison's estate at Montpelier, viewing the Blue Ridge Mountains.

The Town of Orange was a strategically important location during the American Civil War. Just north of town, the Rapidan River was effectively the northern border of the Confederacy for several years. Consequently, the area witnessed countless troop movements, patrols, skirmishes, and encampments. In addition, the Town of Orange served as General Robert E. Lee's headquarters during that time. In fact, General Lee worshipped at the St. Thomas Episcopal Church on Caroline Street, which still stands today.

The town continued to thrive into the twentieth century. Fire destroyed much of the eastern part of town in 1908, but many of the buildings constructed shortly after the fire still remain. In fact, Orange was well-known for its silk mill, which produced many of the parachutes used by U.S. troops during World War II. The silk mill finally closed in the 1970s, but the building still remains and is used by local businesses.

Orange residents will celebrate and honor the town's heritage and 275 years of history with events and activities throughout the year. In conjunction with the Fall Fiber Festival at Montpelier, the Gordonsville Street Festival, and other county-wide events, the Town of Orange will have a Blues Festival on Main Street on October 3rd to mark the anniversary.

Madam Speaker, please join me in congratulating the fine citizens of Orange as they celebrate their town's anniversary and wishing them the best for their continued growth and success.

IN HONOR OF MR. BEN MOORE'S

HON. TOM PRICE

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. PRICE of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I rise today in recognition of Mr. Ben Moore, who this weekend will receive a Lifetime Service and Achievement Award from the Johnson Ferry Baptist Church in my district.

Mr. Moore was born in Texarkana, Arkansas on October 24, 1913. In 1920, his family fled the Dust Bowl and made their way to Atlanta, Georgia. At the age of 14, a young Ben Moore took a job as an office boy at the First National Bank of Atlanta, beginning what would become a long and distinguished career at First National.

Mr. Moore served his country with valor during World War II, joining the Army Air Corps on Oct. 1, 1942 and seeing service in Italy. He returned to Atlanta after the war and was admitted to the State Bar of Georgia in 1949. He has been a member of the bar for 60 years and continues to practice law to this very day.

In 1953 Mr. Moore was named as one of "Atlanta's 100 Leaders of Tomorrow" by Time Magazine. He served on the Atlanta Board of Aldermen, the precursor to today's City Council, during Mayor Ivan Allen's first term. During this period, the City of Atlanta saw numerous changes including the arrival of the Atlanta Braves, the opening of construction on Interstate 285, and the beginning of the transformation of Zoo Atlanta and Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport into the institutions we recognize today.

Mr. Moore became a Baptist in 1957 when he and his two daughters were Baptized by Dr. Monroe Swilley, then pastor of Second Ponce de Leon Baptist Church. He is a graduate of Tech High, the Woodrow Wilson College of Law, and the American Institute of Banking.

Mr. Moore will celebrate his 96th birthday next month. When he isn't practicing law, he enjoys the company of his two daughters, three grandsons, and one great grandson in the Atlanta area.

Throughout his life, Ben Moore has answered the call to serve his family, his community, and his country. I'm proud to honor him today in the United States House of Representatives.

COMMENDING HOMELAND SECURITY DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES AND ANTI-TERRORISM PART-NERS

SPEECH OF

HON. ANDRÉ CARSON

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. CARSON of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, over the last two days, we have considered and voted to pass legislation honoring all Department of Homeland Security employees for their service to the United States over the course of the War on Terror.

As a former Homeland Security official, I have seen first hand the sacrifices that each of these employees makes in the service of our country. These dedicated men and women spend years developing specialized skills and becoming experts on the most effective methods to prevent violence. They devote long hours away from their families, in potentially life threatening situations. And they do all of this to keep us safe from threats around the world.

These federal employees rarely make the news, but their success in the War on Terror is undeniable. Their unyielding efforts have saved lives and prevented billions in property damage. We may never hear of their successes, but they deserve our thanks just the same.

So, Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor these men and women across our country, whose ongoing fight to protect us from terrorism has allowed all of us to enjoy the freedoms that make the United States great.

DON'T HIDE HEALTH CARE DECISIONS FROM JUDICIAL REVIEW

HON. LAMAR SMITH

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Madam Speaker, when Democrats introduced health care legislation, the Administration wanted to rush it through Congress before its cost could be calculated.

When Republicans wanted to review health care legislation before they were made to vote on it, Democrats refused to let them see the language.

Look for more of the same. For instance, the House Democrats' health care legislation prevents federal health care decisions from getting judicial review.

Stealth provisions of the House bill take away Americans' rights to challenge government decisions that will profoundly affect their lives. The courts are not allowed to review challenges to decisions to impose payment rates for doctors, hospitals and prescription drugs.

The courts can't review decisions to rest health care reimbursement on racial and ethnic criteria. And the courts can't review decisions intended to control other features of our health care system.

When Democrats hide what they are doing and limit Americans' rights, we know that the game is not about improving Americans' health care. It is about increasing government power at the people's expense.

And it's time to blow the whistle on that rigged game.

SALUTING THE ONE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF FOREST HILLS GARDENS IN QUEENS, NY AND
THE REDEDICATION OF THE COMMUNITY'S FLAGPOLE

HON. ANTHONY D. WEINER

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. WEINER. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize the one-hundredth anniversary of the beautiful Forest Hills Gardens, the first planned garden community in the United States—one of which of which I am a proud resident.

A bucolic extension of the Olmsteads' New York legacy, our neighborhood was designed by none other than Frederick Law Olmstead Jr., the son of the visionary who gave New York Central and Prospect Parks, two of our most cherished gifts. Much like those glorious testaments to Mother Nature, Forest Hills Gardens brings the natural world to the very heart of a New York City borough while being seamlessly integrated with its decidedly urban surroundings.

While set apart from the thronging streets of Queens, Forest Hills Gardens has evolved to truly embody the diversity of the borough in which it lies, with Christians and Jews living alongside Hindus and Muslims—all of whom are proud New Yorkers and proud Americans.

In tribute to the nation this community represents, Forest Hills Gardens recently rededicated their flagpole following a three-year, painstaking restoration. Madam Speaker, I rise also to recognize this historic occasion. The ninety-eight foot pole is the refurbished mast of the ship Columbia, the swift sloop that was the first to win the America's Cup consecutively, in 1899 and in 1901.

A ship whose history is inextricably tied with New York's, the Columbia was designed by Nathanael Herreshoff and launched in 1899 by J.P. Morgan for the New York Yacht Club. It was sailed in the cold and choppy waters of New York Harbor by Captain Charlie Barr to two glorious victories against Great Britain and retired to New York's own little port at City Island in 1913.

Towering high above the borough of Queens, the Columbia's restored mast tells us of past glory and of future promise. It symbolizes the resilience and ambition that has always and will continue to define New York and its people.

I take this opportunity to present to the community of Forest Hills Gardens a new flag worthy of the Columbia's mast and salute the Forest Hills Gardens Corporation for ensuring that our flag continues to wave high over the greatest city in the world.

RECOGNIZING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF MICHELLE DALLAFIOR TO THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

HON. BART GORDON

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. GORDON of Tennessee. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the service of a valued staff member of the Committee on Science and Technology, Michelle Dallafior, on her last day with the Committee.

Michelle serves on the Energy and Environment Subcommittee, where she manages a broad portfolio of energy issues, including nuclear energy, carbon capture and sequestration, and the transition to a smarter electrical grid. She's worked on key pieces of legislation including the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007, the American Recovery Act of 2009, and the American Clean Energy and Security Act of 2009, as well as the Energy and Water Research Integration Act, which was passed out of Subcommittee yesterday.

Before she joined the Science and Technology Committee, Michelle was Chief of Staff to Rep. CHARLES WILSON (D-OH). Michelle worked for Rep. Ted Strickland (D-OH) for almost a decade, serving as his Legislative Director and, later, his Chief of Staff. Michelle first came to the Hill to work for Sen. John Glenn (D-OH) on Great Lakes legislative issues. Michelle holds an M.A. in Public Policy from Georgetown University and a B.A. in Political Science from the University of Michigan. She is a proud Yoooper, and her Wolverine pride is especially apparent during football and basketball season.

Madam Speaker, Michelle's expertise and ability to reach consensus have made her a valued member of the Committee staff. Despite balancing a heavy work load with her avid pursuit of bocce and cycling, she always finds time to invest in other staffers. She's shown a special talent for mentoring junior staffers and helping them get substantive experience and exposure.

I know that all of the Science and Technology Committee's Members and staff wish her well as she transitions to the Administration. Michelle will be joining the Office of Fossil Energy at the Department of Energy, continuing her work on carbon capture and sequestration and the creation of a smarter electric grid.

Michelle, thank you for all your hard work and counsel. We will certainly miss seeing you day-to-day, but we hope that we will get the opportunity to work with you in your new role.

CELEBRATING RACHEL KNAUB'S 100TH BIRTHDAY

HON. STEVE AUSTRIA

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. AUSTRIA. Madam Speaker, I rise today on behalf of the constituents of Ohio's 7th Congressional District to congratulate and recognize Rachel Knaub on the extraordinary event of her 100th Birthday on October 4, 2009.

Born in Greene County, Rachel has lived in Ohio her entire life. She has resided in many different communities in the state including, Pitchen, Clifton, Springfield, and Cedarville.

Throughout her life, Rachel Knaub has been a proud farmer's wife. She spent 52 years happily married to her husband, Ralph, who passed away in 1992. Rachel is also a proud and active member in the 5th Lutheran Church.

Reaching 100 years of age is truly a great and significant milestone and for that reason, Rachel deserves our congratulations.

WELCOMING REV. MARTHA TAYLOR

HON. BARBARA LEE

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Ms. LEE of California. Madam Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I rise to welcome our guest chaplain here this morning, the Reverend Dr. Martha Taylor. Dr. Taylor has dedicated nearly 4 decades of her life to public service, and it is my distinct honor to welcome her here today.

Dr. Taylor serves as the Pastor of Elmhurst Presbyterian Church in Oakland, California, and as an adjunct professor at the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

She is also the principal owner of Ministry Christian Training—an education ministry that focuses on church leadership, biblical studies, and inspirational workshops. In this role, she has facilitated leadership trainings for numerous churches across the Bay Area and the country.

Throughout her long and varied years of service, Dr. Taylor has focused much of her attention on issues of social justice. She has become a staple in our home community, and remains active in numerous community organizations. For her work, she was named Christian Woman of the Year in 2006 by then-Sacramento Mayor, Heather Fargo, and the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors.

Dr. Taylor's commitment to service stems from her deep reservoir of faith, and from her dedication to use her faith as an active vehicle for social change.

It is again my great pleasure and honor to welcome my friend, the Reverend Dr. Martha Taylor.

RECOGNIZING THE COURAGEOUS SERVICE OF MR. JACK TOLBERT

HON. WALLY HERGER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. HERGER. Madam Speaker, it is my honor today to commend the self-sacrificing act of a true American hero, Jack Tolbert, who was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross on Armed Forces Day in 1954. The extraordinary heroism of Mr. Tolbert was summarized thus when the medal was awarded:

The President of the United States of America, authorized by act of Congress July 9, 1918, has awarded the Distinguished Service Cross to Sergeant First Class Jack P. Tolbert for extraordinary heroism in military operations against an armed enemy:

Sergeant First Class Tolbert, Infantry, United States Army, a Member of Company B, 65th Infantry Regiment, 3rd Infantry Division, distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism in action against an armed enemy of the United States near Kumhwa, Korea, on 11 June 1953. He was one of two outpost guards on the main line of resistance when the area came under a heavy artillery and mortar bombardment. Observing a hostile infantryman approaching the position, he shouted a warning to the other Sentinel and to the guard at the Command Post, enabling them to alert other elements of the imminent attack. Seconds later the enemy soldier hurled a fragmentation grenade into the bunker. Fully aware of the danger involved, he stepped on the missile in an attempt to dispose of it or lessen its explosive effect and received the full impact of the explosion. Although critically wounded in this display of valor, his prompt and unhesitating action prevented serious injury to his comrade. Inspired by his unflinching courage, the troops fought with great tenacity and skill, inflicting numerous casualties and containing the assault. Sergeant Tolbert's inspirational conduct and consummate devotion to duty reflect the highest credit upon himself and uphold the esteemed traditions of the military service.

By order of Lt. General W. G. Wyman, Commanding General of the Sixth Army.
Armed Forces Day, 1954.

Although the Redding chapter of the Military Order of the Purple Heart is named in his honor, Mr. Tolbert insists "I'm not the hero type." In a 2009 interview with his hometown newspaper, Jack said, "I was just a regular GI who spent a little time in the front line. I did my job and came home." With all due respect to Mr. Tolbert, no one shares his view. He may not have intended to be a hero, but a hero he is. And in recognition of his service, Shasta County has designated October 3 as "Jack Tolbert Day."

It is my honor to recognize Jack Tolbert's heroic service to our Nation.

WASHINGTON STATE TROOPER JOHN GARDEN

HON. DAVID G. REICHERT

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. REICHERT. Madam Speaker, today I'd like to recognize Washington State Trooper John Garden for being named the 2008 District One Trooper of the Year in the State of Washington.

As a former law enforcement officer in Washington State, I know the hard work and dedication it takes to earn such an honor, and I thank Trooper Garden for his tireless service and sacrifice for the communities he serves in Pierce and Thurston Counties.

I am confident that Trooper Garden will continue to serve the people of Washington State with great respect and continue his record of strong leadership within the law enforcement community. On behalf of the House of Representatives, I extend my deepest gratitude for his service and sacrifice.

THE INDIAN TRIBAL FEDERAL RECOGNITION ADMINISTRATIVE ACT

HON. ENI F.H. FALEOMAVAEGA

OF AMERICAN SAMOA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Madam Speaker, I rise today to introduce the Indian Tribal Federal Recognition Administrative Procedures Act, a bill to provide for an improved administrative process for federal recognition of certain Indian groups.

The fact of the matter is the process by which the Department of the Interior to recognize Indian tribes is riddled with problems. And these problems exist in large part because the Congress itself has never by law established a process or criteria for the recognition of Indian tribes.

First, the Bureau of Indian Affairs' budget limitations over the years have, in fact, created a certain bias against recognizing new Indian tribes.

Second, the process has always been too expensive, costing some tribes well over $500,000 when most of these tribes lack the resources and necessary finances. I need not remind my colleagues that Native American Indians are still facing severe challenges to education, economic activity and social development, and this administrative process perpetuates an already embarrassing situation for this country.

Madam Speaker, the courts have already acknowledged the unfair treatment of Indian groups because of the current federal recognition process. In 1996, in the case of Greene v. Babbitt, 943 F. Supp. 1278 (W.Dist. Wash.), the federal court found that the existing process is "marred by both lengthy delays and a pattern of serious procedural due process violations." Deciding on the recognition process for the Samish Tribe in the State of Washington, the court recognized that it took over 25 years for the Department to make a decision. Writing for the court, Judge Thomas Zilly opined that "the Samish people's quest for federal recognition as an Indian tribe has a protracted and tortuous history . . . made more difficult by excessive delays and governmental misconduct" (p. 1281). Moreover, certain procedures mandated in the Administrative Process Act (APA) and by the U.S. Constitution were glossed over during the acknowledgement process.

Sadly though, the Samish's administrative and legal conflict—much of which was at public expense—could have been avoided were it not for a 30-year-old clerical error of the Bureau of Indian Affairs which inadvertently left the Samish Tribe's name off the list of recognized tribes in Washington. With a record like this, it is little wonder that many tribes have lost faith in the Government's recognition procedures.

Fixing the recognition process was also noted by former President Clinton. In a 1996 letter to the Chinook Tribe of Washington, the President wrote, "I agree that the current federal acknowledgment process must be improved." Despite some progress been made, President Clinton further added that "much more must be done."

And the most recent action of this administrative acknowledgment process gives no hope to non-recognized tribes of a reasonable and timely process. The Bureau of Indian Affairs recently issued what it calls a proposed finding on the Brothertown of Wisconsin petition for federal acknowledgment. This tribe's petition was considered ready for consideration by the BIA in 1996—even so, the BIA did not take up the petition until 2008, 12 years later. In the proposed finding issued this August, the BIA proposed to turn down recognition of the tribe for several reasons. One of those reasons was a finding by the BIA that the tribe had been terminated by Congress in 1839. Now, a tribe that has been terminated by Congress cannot be recognized by the BIA. And yet, the BIA insists that this tribe complete this administrative process—at the cost of thousands of dollars to the government and the tribe—even though the BIA could not recognize the tribe even if it finds that the tribe meets the criteria for recognition. A process that requires such a thing makes no sense for the Federal Government or for tribes.

Madam Speaker, the legislation I introduce today provides the vehicle to fix the recognition process for Indian groups. It embodies a framework to lessen the adverse impact and the unfortunate burden on Indian groups seeking federal recognition.

Under this proposal, the administrative burden and responsibility for the federal recognition process is transferred from the Bureau of Indian Affairs, BIA, to an independent Commission on Recognition of Indian Tribes. The Commission shall consist of seven members appointed by the President with the consent of the Senate. This commission is tasked with reviewing and acting upon documented petitions submitted by Indian groups that apply for federal recognition.

Under this legislation, clear and consistent standards of administrative review of documented petitions for federal recognition are provided for. Moreover, this bill clarifies and identifies clear evidentiary standards for administrative review and also helps expedite the process by providing adequate resources to process documented petition.

Some have expressed concern that prior bills would open the door for more tribes to conduct gambling operations on new reservations. While I cannot say that no new gambling operations will result from this bill, I do believe that this bill will have only a minimal impact in the area.

I would like to remind my colleagues that: (1) unlike State-sponsored gaming operations, Indian gaming is highly regulated by the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (IGRA); (2) before gaming can be conducted, the tribes must reach an agreement with the state in which the gaming would be conducted; (3) under IGRA, gaming can only be conducted on land held in trust by the federal government; (4) gaming can only be conducted at a level the state permits on non-Indian land; and (4) any gaming profits can only be used for tribal development, such as water and sewer systems, schools, and housing.

I want to emphasize this point—this is not a gambling bill, this is a bill to create a fair, objective process by which Indian groups can be evaluated for possible federal recognition.

Madam Speaker, this bill is not perfect in every form, but it is the result of many hours of consultation and years of work. I want to thank Chairman RAHALL and everyone involved in this endeavor. Many parties and stakeholders have come together for the purpose of making sound, careful changes which recognize the historical struggles the unrecognized tribes have gone through, yet retaining some of the framework the Bureau of Indian Affairs has developed diligently over the years.

In conclusion Madam Speaker, I hope we can take final action and make much needed improvements to the Federal Indian Recognition process.

CONSTITUTION DAY

SPEECH OF

HON. JOHN B. LARSON

OF CONNECTICUT

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 29, 2009

Mr. LARSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Resolution 734, which expresses support for and honors September 17, 2009, as "Constitution Day." September 17 is the day that our United States Constitution was signed in 1787, by 39 delegates from 12 states, including from Connecticut, Samuel Huntington, Oliver Wolcott, and Roger Sherman, whose statue resides in the crypt of this Capitol building.

My home state of Connecticut has a strong and proud connection to the founding principles and documents of this country. Roger Sherman was the only man to sign the Articles of Association, the Declaration of Independence, the Articles of Confederation, and the Constitution. Connecticut itself is known as the Constitution State, for its enactment of the Fundamental Orders of Connecticut, the first written constitution of its kind.

The Fundamental Orders of Connecticut was adopted by the Connecticut Colony in 1639 and established a government for the Connecticut Colony, based on the yearly election of a governor and six magistrates, two from each town in the Colony. These officials were chosen by the count of a written vote, and all freedmen who resided in the colony and had taken an oath of fidelity were eligible to cast their vote.

The Fundamental Orders established limits on the powers of government, emphasizing the power of the people to elect their leaders and act against them should those leaders ignore their concerns. Further, it defined the operating procedures of a government established by the people, of the people, and for the people, ensuring each elected magistrate a vote in matters of governance, and the governor a vote only in the event of a tie.

Many of the principles in the eleven sections of the Fundamental Orders of Connecticut later were echoed in the familiar cadences of our great Constitution, which continues to represent the American ideal of a government consisting of a body of officials elected by the people to serve in their best interests.

It was Roger Sherman's "Connecticut Compromise", made during the Philadelphia Convention of 1787, which ensured fair representation for large and small states in the bicameral legislature which defines our body of Congress.

As a high school history teacher, I had the privilege of studying, learning, and teaching the Constitution. It is the innovation and undiminished endurance of the ideals of our Constitution for which I rise in support of House Resolution 734 to express support for and honor September 17, 2009, as "Constitution Day."

IN RECOGNITION OF BASS PRO SHOPS FOUNDER JOHNNY L. MORRIS, FOR HIS LIFETIME CONSERVATION ACHIEVEMENT AWARD FROM THE TEDDY ROOSEVELT CONSERVATION PARTNERSHIP

HON. ROY BLUNT

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. BLUNT. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor a man who has become an icon to fishermen, an innovative retailer and perhaps the humblest guy you might ever meet. You may not immediately recognize the name Johnny Morris, but you probably know the company he started in 1972—Bass Pro Shops. Johnny is also a dedicated conservationist who supports a host of national wildlife and habitat conservation efforts.

National Fish and Wildlife Foundation, National Wild Turkey Federation, the Nature Conservancy, International Game Fish Association, Ducks Unlimited, Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation, Quality Deer Management Association, Trout Unlimited, International Bowhunting Organization, The Congressional Sportsmen's Foundation, U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, USDA Forest Service, Quail Unlimited, Federation of Fly Fisherman, and Safari Club International are among the organizations that Bass Pro Shops publicly supports.

Johnny's ideal work is fishing. While fishing the Bassmaster professional circuit, he was always taking notes of what lures were catching fish, who made them and how to find them. Starting with hand-tied lures and bait made from sowbellies and sold in jars, Johnny started his business in his father's store. Within two years he needed more room for his growing enterprise.

In 1972 Bass Pro Shops—or Pro Bass as many of his regulars still call it—began issuing catalogs. Today those books are 700 pages of full color pictures of lures, worms, hooks, sinkers, reels, rods and everything an angler would ever need. There is a line of hunting equipment and clothing too.

Among Johnny's successful ideas was selling fishing boats in packages—boat, motor, trailer and trolling motor. It had never been tried before, but it's an industry standard now. That is just one of several reasons why he was named the National Retail Federation's Retail Innovator of the Year in 2008.

Johnny Morris' vision has expanded from that small space in his dad's store to 56 megastores in the United States and Canada, a 1.7-million-square-foot warehouse and headquarters in Springfield, Missouri, and jobs for 16,000 employees.

If you want to know the real success of Morris' Bass Pro Shops, visit one of their stores. Complete with aquariums full of game fish or rare turtles, a Bass Pro Shops store is a visit that will satisfy your interest in everything outdoors. Equipment for most any sportsman's experience is available along with advice from people who have used it. Bass Pro Shops receives nearly 100 million customers, sightseers and visitors a year. The Springfield store is Missouri's number one visitor attraction, welcoming more than 4 million people through its doors last year.

Johnny is a conservationist who enjoys the outdoors and preservation of America's scenic beauty found in its open spaces, wildlife and waters. Earlier this week, the Teddy Roosevelt Conservation Partnership honored Johnny Morris with its Lifetime Conservation Achievement Award for his dedication to conserving our national resources and ensuring the future of America's sporting traditions.

This is an honor Johnny Morris has earned through a lifetime of work as a retailer and sportsman. Foremost, I think Johnny would like to be thought of simply as a pretty good fisherman.

RECOGNIZING TIBOTEC THERAPEUTICS FOR CONDUCTING THE GRACE STUDY, A GROUND BREAKING HIV CLINICAL TRIAL FOCUSED ON WOMEN AND PEOPLE OF COLOR IN THE UNITED STATES

HON. WM. LACY CLAY

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. CLAY. Madam Speaker, I rise today to commend and congratulate Tibotec Therapeutics, part of the Johnson & Johnson family of companies, for demonstrating continued innovation and corporate responsibility in the fight against HIV/AIDS by conducting the groundbreaking GRACE study. GRACE, which stands for Gender Race And Clinical Experience, is the largest study to date in treatment-experienced women with HIV to examine gender and race differences in response to an HIV therapy. In recent HIV studies of treatment-experienced patients, women accounted for less than 11 percent of the patients being studied, on average. GRACE was able to enroll nearly 70 percent women and 84 percent people of color.

In my home State of Missouri, there are almost 12,000 people living with AIDS, and African Americans represent over a third of these cases. Women account for more than one quarter of all new HIV/AIDS diagnoses in the United States, with African American and Latina women representing 79 percent of women living with the disease. People of color have been historically underrepresented in clinical trials in the United States, and HIV/AIDS disproportionately impacts African Americans. In terms of new HIV infections, African American women are infected at a rate 15 times higher than white women.

The trial was designed to help overcome some of the barriers, identified by the advisors, which have historically deterred women and people of color from participating in clinical studies, including stigma, lack of child care, transportation and personal support systems. Based upon advisor and community input, study participants could obtain assistance to cover costs associated with their participation in the study, including funds for travel and childcare, as well as food vouchers. I am proud to say that one of the study sites in this historic clinical trial is located in my congressional district.

Results of the GRACE study showed that there were no statistical differences in the safety, tolerability or effectiveness of the HIV regimens used in the study between male and female participants, or for people of different ethnicities. Additionally, the GRACE study showed that with the appropriate commitment from the trial sponsor and input from affected communities and providers, clinical trials can enroll meaningful numbers of women and racial and ethnic minorities.

Madam Speaker, I commend Tibotec Therapeutics and Johnson & Johnson for their commitment to addressing the disproportionate impact of this epidemic on women and people of color.

U.S. POLICY TOWARDS BURMA

HON. MARK E. SOUDER

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. SOUDER. Madam Speaker, today the Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee on East Asian and Pacific Affairs held a hearing on U.S. policy towards Burma. I would like to contribute some remarks on this important topic. I represent the Third District of Indiana, which is home to the largest concentration of people from Burma in the U.S. In recent years, resettlement agencies have placed well over 2,000 refugees in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Fort Wayne has also become a "community of choice" amongst the refugee community, and secondary migrants have increased Fort Wayne's population of people from Burma to over 6,000. As a result, the Third District is acutely aware of the atrocities and suffering that the people from Burma have faced at the hands of the State Peace and Development Council (SPDC).

I am disappointed that this hearing, which is intended to evaluate the role the U.S. can play in facilitating democratic reform, did not invite testimony from a single representative of Burma's democracy movement or one individual who has endured the violence of the Tatmadaw. A thorough evaluation is impossible without their perspective.

Over the years, U.N. reports have documented some of the military regime's harrowing crimes, including widespread rape, conscription of child soldiers, torture, and the destruction of thousands of villages. It is clear that the SPDC has in part been conducting a war against its own citizens.

In spite of these realities, the Administration has recently engaged in direct dialogues with the Burmese regime and the Senate Committee's hearings today are in part seeking to re-evaluate the role of sanctions in U.S. policy. I support the establishment of a peaceful and democratic Burma. However, it is improbable that this can be achieved through negotiations with the junta—a dictatorship will not act in good faith and broker a deal that will lead to its own demise.

Before such dramatic changes in policy can be made, it is necessary for the military dictatorship to demonstrate a clear movement towards democracy. This must include ending the current violence against its citizens, installing Daw Aung San Suu Kyi to her rightful place as Burma's democratically elected Prime Minister, and drafting a constitution that creates the possibility for true civilian leadership.

Until we see this kind of progress, the U.S. cannot give validity to this illegitimate government.

HONORING BEN G. PORTER

HON. JIM MARSHALL

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. MARSHALL. Madam Speaker, it is my pleasure to rise today to honor one of Macon, Georgia's great citizens, Ben G. Porter, someone who has worked tirelessly to improve the quality of life in Middle Georgia and throughout the State of Georgia.

Ben and his wife Hazel have lived in Macon for over 50 years. He is an avid outdoorsman and his passion for the natural beauty of our land punctuates his business and charitable endeavors. As a former Chairman of the Board of Georgia's Department of Natural Resources, Ben advocated for the conservation and preservation of our natural and cultural resources so that current and future generations can take pleasure in the unique history, diversity and great beauty found in every region of our state. As a founder and member of the Ocmulgee Land Trust, as Chairman of the Jekyll Island Authority as well as in his service as on the Advisory Council of the Trust for Public Land, Ben actively encourages property owners across our nation to conserve and protect land that has natural, recreational, scenic, historic, or productive value.

In his hometown of Macon, Ben Porter's vision and leadership has anchored a number of organizations including the Chamber of Commerce, where he served a term as President, the Macon Heritage Foundation and Mercer University's School of Medicine, where he currently serves on the Board of Governors. But, his most lasting and—I believe he would say—his proudest accomplishment in Macon is the leadership he provided along with a handful of others in the creation of the Ocmulgee Heritage Trail. More than 15 years ago, Ben and a small group of civic and public leaders in Macon began to envision a walking trail that would connect some of Macon's historical and cultural gems—the Ocmulgee National Monument, Rose Hill Cemetery and the historic water treatment facility—to its great natural asset and the lifeblood of our community, the Ocmulgee River. What made this idea special was the reason behind it: most of the land abutting the Ocmulgee River in Macon was owned by private citizens and therefore not accessible to the public. There were few places where the everyday person in Macon could touch the river, could sit beside it in quiet contemplation or enjoy the beauty of its banks. The gift of river access to the Ocmulgee River is the enduring legacy that Ben has helped to give to the citizens of Macon. Today, the Ocmulgee Heritage Trail extends 10 miles, but Ben Porter and the other leaders of the Ocmulgee Heritage Trail executive board dream big, and eventually the Trail will connect landmarks and towns throughout Middle Georgia.

I'd like to close my comments today on a personal note. I have known Ben for many years in both a professional and personal capacity. Ben is a man of faith, a generous giver, a caring mentor and an exceptional visionary whose perseverance and quiet yet influential leadership style has been an example to us all. He is savvy, strong and involved. And he is someone I am proud to call a friend. Please join me in celebrating the life and legacy of Ben G. Porter, a great and influential citizen of Macon, Georgia.

INTRODUCTION OF H.R. 3692, THE NATIONAL FOREST ROADLESS AREA CONSERVATION ACT

HON. JAY INSLEE

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. INSLEE. Madam Speaker, today, with bipartisan support from 151 of my colleagues, I introduced the National Forest Roadless Area Conservation Act of 2009, which will protect 58.5 million acres of pristine wild forests by prohibiting new road construction and reconstruction and providing critical ecological protections. Roadless areas provide clean drinking water to over 60 million Americans, recreational opportunities, and undeveloped habitat for more than 600 threatened, endangered or sensitive plant and animal species. In Washington, 2,015,000 acres of roadless areas, almost 22 percent of our wildlands, are at stake. Washington State crown jewels, like Eagle Rock and Dark Divide, should be preserved for future generations. This legislation will codify the Clinton Administration's Roadless Area Conservation rule to protect these lands and move us closer to permanently protecting our nation's unique and invaluable wildlands.

In 2001, President Clinton issued the Roadless Area Conservation Rule, protecting 58.5 million acres of National Forest land (30 percent of all National Forest land) from new road construction. The Clinton Roadless Rule was the result of a two-year rulemaking process that included the most extensive public involvement process in federal rulemaking history. The U.S. Forest Service held more than 600 meetings, with more than 1.6 million Americans submitting comments to the plan, where my constituents and many other Americans voiced their overwhelming support for the rule.

While the Clinton Roadless Rule enjoyed enormous public support, the Bush Administration fought a multi-year battle to overturn it. In 2005, the Bush Administration issued a new roadless rule that removed protections and opened roadless areas up for further development. In addition, numerous lawsuits have tracked the roadless rule's course, both in favor and opposed. Recently, the 9th District court has decided in favor of the 2001 Roadless Rule. This legislation will permanently protect our nation's roadless areas and remove all ambiguity concerning their conservation and protection.

As a native Washingtonian and a lifelong outdoorsman, I grew up exploring and enjoying our National Forests. It is my hope that my grandchildren will be able to explore and enjoy the same untouched and protected forests that I have grown to love. By carefully and thoughtfully conserving our National Forest lands, they will be here for future generations to come.

I have led the fight for our roadless areas in Congress since 2002 and will continue to seek ways to protect our National Forests.

IN HONOR OF THOMAS J. MANNING

HON. FRANK PALLONE, JR.

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. PALLONE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Thomas J. Manning and his dedicated years of service to the State of New Jersey and its workers. Mr. Manning recently retired after a long career as an advocate for New Jersey's workers. Through his tenacity and hard work he became a positive force in the lives of so many.

In 1969, Mr. Manning graduated from Mater Dei High School, located in New Monmouth, New Jersey. He soon became involved in the steamfitting trade, serving a five year apprenticeship before achieving the position of Mechanical Superintendent. Mr. Manning is a member of Local Union No. 475 and has served his union in a number of distinguished capacities. In 1994, he was elected to the position of Business Agent and in 2000 he was selected to serve as the union's Business Manager. He was also a trustee and Co-Chairman of the Steamfitters Local 475 Employee Benefit Trust Fund.

Mr. Manning has also served in several state-wide union positions, during which time he represented and fought for thousands of his fellow workers. He served as President of the New Jersey State Association of Pipe Trades. In this capacity, he worked to represent 11,000 plumbers, pipefitters, sprinklerfitters, and HVAC service providers. Mr. Manning has also served as Vice President of the New Jersey State Building and Construction Trades, President of the Mechanical Allied Crafts, and as an Executive Board Member of the New Jersey AFL-CIO.

Mr. Manning is a founding member of my labor advisory committee and has become a trusted advisor to me on not only labor issues but on the environment, the economy and workers' health care.

Importantly, Mr. Manning sought to continue his education in the fields of labor and political studies. He completed courses in both Labor Law and Labor History at Cornell University's School of Industrial and Labor Relations. He also attended Rutgers University's Labor Education Center where he studied political science.

Mr. Manning has been a member of numerous government and local advisory groups. In 2005, he was appointed by Governor Dick Codey to serve as a member of the School Construction Corporation Board of Directors. He also served as a member of New Jersey Governor Jon Corzine's Economic Development Transition Team and was later appointed to a position with the New Jersey Economic Development Authority.

Madam Speaker, Local 475, the labor movement and the people of New Jersey are losing a true champion with the retirement of Tom Manning. I sincerely hope that my colleagues will join me in celebrating his impressive career. His long record of advocacy on behalf of New Jersey's workers is truly remarkable.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. NEIL ABERCROMBIE

OF HAWAII

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. ABERCROMBIE. Madam Speaker, I regret that I missed rollcall vote Nos. 740–745. Had I been present, I would have voted “aye” on rollcall votes 740–741 and 743–745. I would have voted “nay” on rollcall vote 742.

CARLSBAD MENTAL HEALTH CLINIC

HON. HARRY TEAGUE

OF NEW MEXICO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. TEAGUE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the Carlsbad Mental Health Center for their innovative use of health information technology, which was recognized in two nationally syndicated publications highlighting the findings of a report prepared by Dr. Edward Kako for the federal Centers of Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).

As recently as 2007, the Carlsbad Mental Health Center was witnessing rising costs, budgetary shortages and high wait times for patient appointments and in-takes. The facility responded to these challenges by adopting an innovative new program to harness health information technology to improve efficiency and cut costs. Within a year the facility's new practices brought a number of successful developments.

First, the new practices improved the quality of care for patients, while cutting wait times for patient appointments. The new system provided the staff access to more detailed information, allowing them to better diagnose and treat patients. In addition, further research into the facilities high no-show and cancellation rates produced new policy changes, which reduced the wait time for an appointment from up to 6 weeks to an average of 11 days.

Second, these new practices resulted in dramatic cost reductions. The innovative use of health information technology by the Carlsbad Mental Health Center illustrates how adopting cutting edge technologies and practices can cut health care costs and provide better service to patients. Adopting the best practices for mental health care will not only help the general public, but will also help our veterans who are experiencing high rates of mental health disorders and substance addictions. This is of particular importance to me as I believe providing veterans with the best possible care available is among our highest obligations.

Madam Speaker and colleagues, please join me in recognizing and in honoring the Carlsbad Mental Health Center's impressive accomplishments and innovations in the field of mental health treatment.

ENHANCED PARTNERSHIP WITH PAKISTAN ACT OF 2009

SPEECH OF

HON. SHEILA JACKSON-LEE

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of S. 1707, an act to authorize appropriations for fiscal years 2010 through 2014 to promote an enhanced strategic partnership with Pakistan and its people. S. 1707 establishes a new, more positive framework for U.S.-Pakistan relations. This bill is a bipartisan, bicameral compromise and is crucial to the success of a wide range of U.S. national security and foreign policy interests, while ensuring accountability and accountability for the assistance we give. I was an original cosponsor of H.R. 1886, an earlier version of this legislation. H.R. 1886, was passed by this body with bipartisan support on June 12th, and I remain unwavering in my support for this assistance package to Pakistan.

Like its predecessor, S. 1707 establishes a set of principles that should govern the U.S.-Pakistan relationship, including the actions that the two countries should take to maintain a robust, relevant and lasting relationship. The bill is comprised of three titles.

The first title provides Democratic, Economic and Development Assistance for Pakistan; the second Title provides Security Assistance for Pakistan; and the third Title requires the President to develop a regional security strategy; provides for enhanced monitoring, evaluation, and auditing of U.S. assistance; requires a Presidential report on Pakistan, including an evaluation on Pakistan's progress in counterterrorism and an assessment of whether assistance provided to Pakistan is in any way facilitating the expansion of Pakistan's nuclear weapons program; and requires that all assistance to Pakistan be provided through a civilian government in Pakistan established by free and fair elections.

Pakistan is a critical ally of the United States. For too long, however, our relationship with Pakistan has been one of fits and starts, depending on events in the region and who happens to be in power in Pakistan. It is time for us the United States to forge a truly strategic partnership with Pakistan, one that goes beyond our mutual interest today in counterinsurgency and counterterrorism and speaks to the everyday needs of the average Pakistani.

S. 1707 accomplishes these objectives. The legislation would significantly expand economic, social and democracy assistance to help lay the foundation for a stronger, more stable Pakistan. As requested by President Obama, this legislation triples the authorization for U.S. economic, social, and democratic development assistance to Pakistan to $1.5 billion a year. This assistance promotes democratic institutions in the short term. In the short term, it provides immediate funding for democratic institutions such as Pakistan's parliament and judicial institutions. For the long term, this legislation enables Pakistan's next generation by funding educational and vocational opportunities for women and girls and religious minorities.

As much as we must focus on the internal conflicts in Pakistan, we must not forget the external issues affecting the region as a whole and the need for stabilization.

Over the years, U.S. assistance to Pakistan has fluctuated with political events, sending mixed messages and leading most Pakistanis to question both our intentions and our staying power. Today, many Pakistanis believe the United States will cut and run when it serves our purpose, a belief which undermines our longterm efforts to defeat extremists, foster democratic change, and support transparent and accountable institutions that promote security and stability in Pakistan.

However, the status quo is not working: many in the United States believe we are paying too much and getting too little—and most Pakistanis believe exactly the opposite. Without changing this baseline, there is little likelihood of drying up popular tolerance for anti-U.S. terrorist groups or persuading Pakistani leaders to devote the political capital necessary to deny such groups sanctuary and covert material support.

The bill helps bridge a sustainable U.S.-Pakistan partnership through an increased focus on public diplomacy and engagement. S. 1707 authorizes a new exchange program for Pakistani civil servants and military officers in order to foster greater respect for and understanding of the principle of civilian rule in Pakistan's military. By building bridges to Pakistan and its people, the legislation is intended to provide a new, more positive framework for U.S.-Pakistan relations. Finally, the bill authorizes an extensive increase in military assistance to help Pakistan wage an effective counterinsurgency campaign against those forces that threaten Pakistan's national security.

This legislation establishes a new, more positive framework for U.S.-Pakistan relations. The legislation establishes a set of principles that should govern the U.S.-Pakistan relationship, including the actions that the two countries should take to maintain a robust, relevant and lasting relationship.

Although, I believe that this bill is crucial and will be effective, it is only one piece of a greater strategy. This bill did not, as I have proposed, create a militant rehabilitation program to specifically prevent youth from turning to militancy from the onset. Financial support and job opportunities would be provided to graduates of the rehabilitation programs as incentives for steering insurgents away from militancy. This amendment would have greatly fostered counterterrorism efforts, and I hope that some of the many outstanding groups working in Pakistan will take the initiative in implementing this proposal.

I have been to Pakistan many times. My belief in this country and its relationship with the United States drove me to co-chair the Pakistan Caucus.

Benazir Bhutto, shortly before her death said that “The next few months are critical to Pakistan's future direction as a democratic state committed to promoting peace, fighting terrorism and working for social justice. Democracy is necessary to peace and to undermining the forces of terrorism.” I had the pleasure of knowing the late Benazir Bhutto and losing her was truly a tragedy felt beyond Pakistan. She made this statement over two years ago, yet is relevant today more than ever.

On May 19, 2009, Secretary of State Hillary Clinton announced $110 million in emergency assistance for the South Asia nation of Pakistan, including aid for civilians fleeing a military offensive against Taliban militants in the northwest. The United Nations refugee agency issued a report stating that more than 1.4 million people in the North West Frontier Province (NWFP) have been registered as displaced since May 2, describing the flood as the largest and swiftest to take place anywhere in the world in recent years.

The newly-registered internally displaced persons (IDP) took the total number of those who have fled their homes in the SWAT valley and surrounding areas to two million.

I am hopeful that the $110 million in emergency assistance will get to the people on the ground and will be of assistance to them. It is important that the people of Pakistan see that the aid is coming from America to give a face to this aid. It is essential to global security and the security of the United States.

The surge of IDPs followed the launch of a military offensive in late April. President Asif Ali Zardari acted after U.S. officials stepped up warnings that Islamabad's willingness to tolerate and negotiate peace deals with the militants was endangering both Pakistan and the wider region. The Taliban fighting spread to NWFP districts and SWAT.

President Obama's new approach to Pakistan is different than anything that has been tried before. America has expressed that it will support the democratically-elected government and it will have a clear and transparent relationship. This bill has the support of the President, Secretary Clinton, Secretary Gates, Admiral Mullen, and Senators KERRY and LUGAR.

In conclusion, I urge you to support S. 1707, which seeks to and effectively establishes a new, more positive and enduring framework for U.S.-Pakistan relations. This legislation is timely. It is bipartisan. It is accountable. It is effective.

SIXTH ANNUAL NATIONAL CYBER SECURITY AWARENESS MONTH

HON. YVETTE D. CLARKE

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Ms. CLARKE. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of the sixth annual National Cybersecurity Awareness Month, which kicks off today.

The goal of National Cyber Security Awareness Month is to show everyday Internet users that by taking simple steps, they can safeguard themselves from the latest online threats and respond to potential cyber crime incidents.

I commend the National Cyber Security Division (NCSD) of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), the National Cyber Security Alliance (NCSA), the Multi-State Information Sharing and Analysis Center (MS-ISAC) and their partners for sponsoring National Cyber Security Awareness Month again this year.

This year, the theme of National Cyber Security Awareness Month is "Our Shared Responsibility." Ultimately, our cyber infrastructure is only as strong as the weakest link. In this digital age, we are all connected. No individual, business, or government entity is solely responsible for cyber security. Everyone must make sure to employ safe and secure computing practices. We all need to understand how our individual online computing practices have a collective impact on our nation's cyber security.

Cyber security vulnerabilities can significantly impact our national and economic security. Cyber warfare and cyber crime are increasing in sophistication and frequency every day. The Department of Homeland Security logged 5,499 such cyber attack incidents in 2008—a 40 percent increase over the previous year. A 2007 Government Accountability Office report estimates the total U.S. business losses due to cyberattacks exceed $117.5 billion per year. A 2009 Consumer Reports study found that over the past 2 years, one in five online consumers has been a victim of cyber crime. Attacks on our Federal Government networks this summer served as a recent reminder that we must remain vigilant in combating cyber incidents.

Through the help of the Obama administration, cyber security is finally gaining the much needed attention it deserves both in the Federal Government and the private sector. The White House's Cyberspace Policy Review, published this May, recommends that the government initiate a national public awareness and education campaign to promote cyber security. The President will soon name a National Cyber Security Coordinator, the first such White House post.

As chairwoman of the Homeland Security Subcommittee on Emerging Threats, Cybersecurity and Science and Technology, I am doing my part to oversee government's role in securing cyberspace. Earlier this year I held a series of hearings on our Nation's cyber security posture and the various vulnerabilities in our critical information infrastructure. This month I will host a series of events geared to educate Hill staff on this important national and economic security issue.

NATIONAL HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH

HON. PHIL HARE

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. HARE. Madam Speaker, I proudly rise today in observance of Hispanic Heritage Month to honor the culture, traditions and contributions of the Hispanic community both in my home state of Illinois and in the country as a whole.

What began as Hispanic Heritage Week in 1968 under President Johnson was expanded in 1988 when Illinois Senator Paul Simon introduced legislation to lengthen the celebration to National Hispanic Heritage Month. Beginning each year on September 15, Hispanic Heritage Month falls during the independence anniversaries of several Latin American countries, and celebrates those Americans whose ancestors came from Spain, Mexico, the Caribbean, and Central and South America.

Today, Hispanic Americans are the largest minority group within the United States. And throughout our history, the Hispanic community has made invaluable contributions to our history and national character in the areas of government and politics, science, business, and the arts.

Of the 500 largest Hispanic-owned businesses, twenty are located in Illinois, including Group O, Inc. located in my district in the Village of Milan. I would also like to commend the President for appointing and the Senate for confirming the newest addition to the U.S. Supreme Court, Associate Justice Sonia Sotomayor, whose life story exemplifies the American Dream: that with courage, determination and hard work, anyone can prosper and achieve success.

Furthermore, Hispanic Americans have made significant contributions to the defense of this nation through service in all branches of the Armed Forces. Hispanics have courageously defended the United States in wars from the American Revolution through the current conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan. To date, forty-three Hispanic Americans have received the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award for valor in action against an enemy force.

In Silvis, Illinois there is a block-and-a-half-long street with twenty-five homes that was originally settled by Mexican immigrants in the earlier part of the twentieth century. This street, appropriately renamed Hero Street USA, has, sent more than 110 men and women to serve in the U.S. armed forces, more than any other American street of comparable size anywhere in our country. Their unselfish defense of this nation and its values is representative of the strength, hard work and love of family and country demonstrated by the Hispanic community in the United States.

Additionally, I am proud to have Joe Terronez among my constituency, who in 1967 was elected to the city council in Silvis and later became Illinois's first Hispanic mayor.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to continue this national celebration which was first started by the 100th Congress and join me in honoring the histories, cultures and contributions of Hispanic Americans during Hispanic Heritage Month.

PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF CONFERENCE REPORT ON LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2010

SPEECH OF

HON. HARRY TEAGUE

OF NEW MEXICO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 25, 2009

Mr. TEAGUE. Madam Speaker, I am very disappointed that the leadership of this House has put us in the unfortunate position of voting on legislation that combines the Legislative Branch Appropriations bill and the Continuing Resolution.

First, I am against this Legislative Branch Appropriations bill. I am against Congress increasing its own budget while small businesses around the country tighten their belts. Companies in my district are cutting hours and cutting costs. Workers are losing their jobs. But Congress is paying its staff $74 million more than last year. We have our priorities backward. I voted against the Legislative Branch Appropriations bill when it came up in the House, and I have no interest in supporting the conference report.

Second, I oppose this corruption of the legislative process. My colleagues and I should have the opportunity to say "no" to more money for our own offices without opposing needed increases for our veterans. This isn't the way to do business.

Third, I regret that the first appropriations priority of this Congress is the legislative branch. While spending bills to support veterans, border security, and our men and women in uniform languish, we are sending a bill to increase our allowances to the President. Our veterans should be first in line, not us.

Because of this failure, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs will, for the tenth time in 11 years, get its budget late. Late funding threatens the quality of care at the VA and hinders the VA's ability to recruit well-trained medical professionals, maintain facilities, and acquire new equipment.

During testimony before the Senate Veterans' Affairs Committee on July 27, 2007, former VA medical center directors stated that most VA budget cycles began via a continuing resolution. As a result, decisions were made on the basis of cost rather than on the basis of the highest quality. The expression, "a day late, a dollar short," comes to mind.

By passing advanced appropriations for veterans in this year's budget, we will make sure the VA isn't playing a waiting game with its budget next year. But that doesn't mean we can fall down on the job of supporting our nation's veterans this year. We should be passing legislation to support our veterans, not this.

EXPRESSING CONDOLENCES TO THE PEOPLE OF AMERICAN SAMOA, SAMOA AND INDONESIA
IN THE AFTERMATH OF THE EARTHQUAKES AND TSUNAMI
DEVASTATION

HON. ALCEE L. HASTINGS

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. HASTINGS of Florida. Madam Speaker, I rise today to express my deep condolences to the people of American Samoa and Samoa on Tuesday suffered a devastating tsunami triggered by a powerful earthquake of 8.0 on the Richter scale. The destructive path of the tsunami has flattened villages and caused the deaths of over a hundred people. I am truly saddened by this devastating turn of events. My thoughts and prayers are with the victims' families during this most difficult time.

While hundreds of people are being treated for injuries and as rescue efforts continue, I am glad to see that relief supplies are getting to the Pacific islands right away.

Madam Speaker, I also would like to extend my condolences to the people of western Indonesia who regrettably suffered a powerful earthquake on Wednesday, where at least 1,100 people have been killed. The aftermath of this earthquake has caused landslides and trapped thousands under buildings, including two hospitals. I send my deepest sympathies to the families who have lost loved ones from this devastating earthquake.

The valiant efforts of local authorities and the Red Cross to rescue victims must not go unnoticed. These brave individuals are on the frontline and face many grave dangers to help those in need. I would also like to commend my colleague and friend, Congressman ENI FALEOMAVAEGA for his quick response to this terrible tragedy. His leadership during this difficult time will undoubtedly help the people of American Samoa and Samoa rebuild the Pacific islands and restore it back to its beautiful heritage.

Madam Speaker, the coming weeks and months will be a very trying time for all those affected by these natural disasters. I wish the people of American Samoa and Samoa as well as Indonesia a safe recovery.

RECOGNITION OF CITY YEAR NEW YORK ON OPENING DAY

HON. CHARLES B. RANGEL

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. RANGEL. Madam Speaker, I rise in honor of City Year and especially City Year New York to celebrate the Opening Day of the '09-'10 City Year class. Tomorrow is Opening Day for all 19 City Year sites, deploying 1,500 corps members in service to our country's high-need schools, including those in my district.

The '09-'10 City Year New York class has more than 230 young leaders representing 38 out of the 50 states, bringing a diverse group of service-oriented individuals to help New York's children succeed. Being from the great state of New York, I am proud that City Year New York runs the largest City Year program in the country.

I admire City Year for its continued service and dedication to our New York communities. Its goals to help students and schools succeed, build stronger communities, break down social barriers, develop young leaders, and foster active citizenship are what lead to make our nation's youth better equipped for tomorrow's challenges. City Year New York does these things and more at several schools in my community of Harlem, including Vito Marcantonio, James Weldon Johnson, Luis Munoz Rivera, and Jose Celso Barbosa elementary schools, and Jackie Robinson and John S. Roberts middle schools.

Education is the most critical factor for determining the future well-being of our children. President Obama, City Year, and our partners recognize that we cannot afford to fail in this area because our economy and, more importantly, a united democracy depend on it. City Year recognizes this success requires a whole community effort and serves our students with a team comprised of government officials, school staffs, corporate partners, and youth leaders.

Harlem was able to provide space for corps training at The Minisink Town House of the New York Mission Society. I am pleased that community partnerships like these, and the support of corporate partnerships, will ensure that City Year New York is able to continue its efforts and succeed in Harlem.

Let's continue to applaud and support City Year, especially City Year New York, and all service organizations as they continue building better communities. I call upon my fellow Members of Congress to join me in celebrating the Opening Day for these 1,500 corps members as they embark on their missions of service.

NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS WHO SERVE OUR NATION IN THE U.S. ARMY

HON. SPENCER BACHUS

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. BACHUS. Madam Speaker, it is with great pride and admiration that I rise today to honor the Non-Commissioned Officers from the great state of Alabama who serve our Nation in the United States Army.

NCOs from the my state have served in defense of our freedoms, in support of our democracy, and in service to the citizens of the state of Alabama during times of natural disasters and to our Nation in times of national emergencies at home and abroad.

Since 9/11, Army Reservists from Alabama have deployed over 6,000 times and members of the Alabama Army National Guard have made over 15,000 deployments to the Global War on Terror, many for the second, third, and fourth time.

The U.S. Army has designated 2009 as the "Year of the NCO" to pay tribute to the leadership qualities and contributions of the Non-Commissioned Officers charged with executing the military organization's mission and training for personnel and equipment maintenance that make their units function. Those values are embodied in the NCO Creed, which reads:

No one is more professional than I. I am a Non-Commissioned Officer, a leader of soldiers. As a Non-Commissioned Officer, I realize that I am a member of a time honored corps, which is known as 'The Backbone of the Army'. I am proud of the Corps of Non-Commissioned Officers and will at all times conduct myself so as to bring credit upon the Corps, the Military Service and my country regardless of the situation in which I find myself. I will not use my grade or position to attain pleasure, profit, or personal safety;

Competence is my watchword. My two basic responsibilities will always be uppermost in my mind—accomplishment of my mission and the welfare of my soldiers. I will strive to remain technically and tactically proficient. I am aware of my role as a Non-Commissioned Officer. I will fulfill my responsibilities inherent in that role. All soldiers are entitled to outstanding leadership; I will provide that leadership. I know my soldiers and I will always place their needs above my own. I will communicate consistently with my soldiers and never leave them uninformed. I will be fair and impartial when recommending both rewards and punishment;

Officers of my unit will have maximum time to accomplish their duties; they will not have to accomplish mine. I will earn their respect and confidence as well as that of my soldiers. I will be loyal to those with whom I serve; seniors, peers, and subordinates alike. I will exercise initiative by taking appropriate action in the absence of orders. I will not compromise my integrity, nor my moral courage. I will not forget, nor will I allow my comrades to forget that we are professionals, Non-Commissioned Officers, leaders!

It is an honor to draw attention to these brave soldiers, and I commend Alabama's Army Non-Commissioned Officers for their service to our State and the Nation.

RESOLUTION HONORING THE LIFE OF MICHAEL SHIMANSKYHON. JERRY MCNERNEY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. MCNERNEY. Madam Speaker, today I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the life of Michael Shimansky, who passed away peacefully at age 65 on September 15, 2009.

Mike Shimansky was the longest serving member of the Danville Town Council since the town's incorporation in 1982. He was elected in 1989 and served for 20 years with a deep rooted sense of public service and strong belief in giving back to the community in which he lived. I knew Mike on a personal basis, and he was a warm and genuine man. His passion for public service extended beyond his role as a Danville Town Council member. He was well known for officiating local soccer games, lacrosse games and track meets. I remember Mike as a fixture at events to raise money for positive causes, such as presiding over Primo's Run for Education, and the Hats Off America Run, which raises money for the benefit of surviving families of our fallen soldiers.

Mr. Shimansky also represented the town of Danville through appointments to numerous other boards, committees and commissions. He was currently serving on the Central Contra Costa Solid Waste Authority, Contra Costa Transit Authority, and San Ramon Valley Disaster Council; and as the Contra Costa Mayors' Conference appointee on the S.F. Bay Area Air Quality Management District Board and the East Bay Regional Park District Advisory Committee and the Elections Citizen Advisory Committee. Prior to his election to the town council, Mr. Shimansky served as a member of the town's inaugural Parks and Leisure Services Commission.

Mike was also a friend to our veterans in the San Ramon Valley. As a member of the Danville Park and Leisure Services Commission, he was instrumental in the establishment of the All Wars Memorial at Oak Hill Park. A local veterans organization, the Vietnam Veterans of Diablo Valley described him as, "a truly outstanding and dedicated—beloved man of the community—in which he served and lived."

Michael Shimansky's passion for public service did not stop at home. In addition to being deeply involved in the local community, he volunteered to help his fellow citizens during times of national crisis, by going to New Orleans to join the American Red Cross' efforts in both the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina in 2005, and during the wildfires that devastated many homes and communities in San Diego County in 2007.

Mike was a valued and respected leader who touched the lives of many and improved the quality of life in Danville for decades to come. He always worked for the common good and led by example. In the words of one of his fellow council members, "People loved him for his work ethic. Every decision he made, he had the people of Danville in mind."

Michael Shimansky's efforts as a volunteer and unwavering dedication to public service leave a legacy that will continue to benefit the people of Danville, the State of California and our great Nation for generations to come. It is for these reasons that I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the memory of Michael Shimansky in sending our thoughts and prayers to his beloved family and friends.

HONORING THE LONG VALLEY
WOMAN'S CLUBHON. RODNEY P. FRELINGHUYSEN

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the Long Valley Woman's Club in Morris County, New Jersey, which is celebrating its 95th Anniversary this year.

Originally named the "Home Bureau," The Long Valley Woman's Club was founded in 1914 by a group of twelve dedicated community leaders at the home of Mrs. Frank Castle, who served as their first president. The women met regularly for monthly "Meet and Eat" sessions, at which they would dine, while sharing recipes with each other.

The Long Valley Woman's Club eventually transformed into a service-based organization, providing valuable support for the community. Most notably, the Long Valley Woman's Club was responsible for providing the Washington Township Fire Company with its first alarm system, donating essential life-saving equipment to the local first aid squad, and contributing funds for the building of a hospital. The club also led the charge for establishing Washington Township's first free public library. The Long Valley Woman's Club has a long-standing tradition of providing clothing, food, and monetary donations to those in need, as well as scholarships and awards to hard-working young people in the community.

In 1930, the Long Valley Woman's Club was recognized for its outstanding volunteer services when it became a member of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs and the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Madam Speaker, I ask you and my colleagues to join me in congratulating the members of the Long Valley Woman's Club as they celebrate 95 dedicated years of serving our community.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. LAURA RICHARDSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Ms. RICHARDSON. Madam Speaker, on Tuesday, September 29, 2009, I was unavoidably detained and thus missed rollcall vote No. 740.

Had I been present I would have voted as follows: On rollcall No. 740, Motion to Suspend the Rules and Pass H.R. 905, as amended, "Thunder Bay National Marine Sanctuary and Underwater Preserve Boundary Modification Act of 2009," I would have voted "aye."

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA MEN-TORS AND VOLUNTEERS HON-ORED WITH STATUE IN RIVER-FRONT PARK; SPOKANE, WA

HON. CATHY McMORRIS RODGERS

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mrs. McMORRIS RODGERS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the dedication and commitment to service exemplified by the mentors and volunteers of the Boy Scouts of America and to commemorate the installation of a statue, dedicated in honor of these mentors and volunteers, in Riverfront Park in Spokane, Washington.

The support and assistance of the community and those directly associated with the Boy Scouts has made this project a reality. Over the course of three years, funds were raised and a location secured for the installation of the "Footsteps of the Future" statue honoring the volunteers and mentors involved with the Boy Scouts of America. A gift from Troop 325 and the Inland Northwest Council of the Boy Scouts to the City of Spokane, this bronze statue, over seven feet in height, is inspired by the National Boy Scouts of America statuette that is oftentimes given to those attaining Eagle Scout rank. The models for the statue are two Boy Scouts from Troop 325; the older Scout is depicted pointing the way for the younger Scout.

However, perhaps the greatest impetus behind this project was the inspired service of a Spokane-area man who devoted nearly 40 years of his life mentoring the youth in our community as a Boy Scout leader. Dean Dinnison, former Scoutmaster of Troop 325, served honorably with the United States Marine Corps for four years during World War II. It is fitting, then, that the statue honoring his commitment to service and that of countless other mentors and volunteers should be placed at the western-most edge of Riverfront Park, in the Veterans Park.

Madam Speaker, as we recognize 100 years of Scouting in America this year, I believe the ongoing service of our Nation's Boy Scouts and the mentors and volunteers who help shape them as leaders in our communities deserves recognition. It is my hope that this statue, like the two boys it is modeled after and the man who inspired its creation, will serve to inspire future generations of our Nation's youth to a vibrant life of civic involvement. I invite my colleagues to join me in honoring the volunteers, mentors, and Scouts of the Boy Scouts of America and in commemorating the dedication of the "Footsteps to the Future" statue.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. DANNY K. DAVIS

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. DAVIS of Illinois. Madam Speaker, I was unable to cast votes on the following legislative measures on September 29, 2009. If I were present for rollcall votes, I would have voted Yea on each of the following:

Roll 740, September 29, 2009: On Motion to Suspend the Rules and Pass, as Amended:

H.R. 905, Thunder Bay National Marine Sanctuary and Underwater Preserve Boundary Modification Act.

Roll 741, September 29, 2009: On Motion to Suspend the Rules and Agree: H. Res. 16, Supporting the goals and ideals of National Life Insurance Awareness Month.

Roll 742, September 29, 2009: On Motion to Instruct Conferees: H.R. 2997, Making appropriations for Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies programs for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2010, and for other purposes.

FISCAL NEW YEAR

HON. MIKE COFFMAN

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. COFFMAN of Colorado. Madam Speaker, Happy New Year.

Today is October first, the start of the 2010 Fiscal Year. That means it is also Fiscal New Year.

My short time here in Washington has convinced me that many inside the Beltway are out of touch with the real day-to-day lives of those in the rest of the country.

So we should do what many Americans do, and use the New Year as an opportunity to reassess how we are doing, and to make resolutions to improve our behavior.

Today, I offer some Fiscal New Year Resolutions for Congress:

Number One: Balance the budget.

CBO estimates that the 2009 deficit will be 1.6 trillion dollars, and the cumulative deficit over the next ten years will equal 9.1 trillion dollars.

Number Two: Lower our debt.

Even if we stop deficit spending, we already carry 11 trillion in debt. We should be addressing this burden, not increasing it.

Number Three: Act responsibly.

We need to make sure Congress can and does read the bills they pass. We need time to study and evaluate them before a vote.

Number Four: Study economics.

Congress obviously needs some lessons in how markets work. We need to recognize that Government control in what should be the private sector destroys efficiencies. We need to reward success, not bail-out failure. And we need to understand that government competition destroys markets.

Madam Speaker, I hope Congress can so resolve.

MOTION TO GO TO CONFERENCE
ON H.R. 2918, LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS ACT,

SPEECH OF

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 23, 2009

Mr. KUCINICH. Madam Speaker, I strongly support many provisions in H.R. 2918, the Legislative Branch Appropriations Act of 2009, including funding for the Census Bureau, the U.S. Capitol Police, the Government Accountability Office, GAO, and the Ryan White AIDS Program. I cannot, however, support the inclusion of approximately $10.8 billion in war funding and as such, I oppose the bill.

As an ardent supporter of the U.S. Postal Service, USPS, I commend the inclusion of provisions in this bill that would reduce the amount USPS must contribute to the Postal Service Retiree Health Benefits Fund to $1.5 million from $5.4 million, ensuring its survival through the end of this month. Congress has a responsibility to the communities it represents to ensure that the USPS and the irreplaceable services it provides as a universal mail delivery service are maintained.

This legislation appropriately increases the funding for the U.S. Census Bureau to $7.1 billion to ensure that the agency can meet the demands of the upcoming census in 2010. The census is vital in fulfilling our Constitutional duties under Article 1, Section 2, which are intended to ensure that the people have equal representation in government at the state and federal level. I also fully support the provisions in this bill providing $328 million for the dedicated men and women of the U.S. Capitol Police and $572 million for the GAO.

I strongly oppose the inclusion of funding for the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan in this bill. The war in Iraq was based on false intelligence and an inaccurate, government sponsored, propaganda campaign. This body was given a mandate by the American people in 2006 to get out of Iraq. Congress has the ability, through the power of the purse, to end the occupation of Iraq and bring all troops and contractors home immediately. Failure to do so continues to put our brave and honorable troops in harm's way.

I also oppose dedicating more resources to Afghanistan. The people of Afghanistan are suffering horribly from 8 years of war. During that time, the Afghan central government has become increasingly corrupt and has failed to meet the needs of the Afghan people.

Violence in Afghanistan continues to grow. The United Nations General Assembly Security Council reports "an average of 898 incidents in the first seven months of 2009, compared to 677 during the same time frame in 2008. Incidents involving improvised explosive devices have risen dramatically, to an average of more than eight per day, 60 per cent higher than the average during the first seven months of 2008. Complex attacks now average one per month compared to one per quarter in 2008." This past August was reported to be the "deadliest month since the beginning of 2009."

I am also dismayed by the inclusion of language that unilaterally bars all funding for Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now, ACORN. I have serious concerns that such language constitutes a bill of attainder. The Constitution expressly prohibits Congress from legislatively punishing an individual or specific class of people, and I believe that this action is an effort to circumvent the protection that the Constitution affords to all people and organizations. This country has a robust judicial system that has been created precisely for this purpose; we ought to let it do its job. If a crime has been committed, we should prosecute the people who have committed that crime.

Congress and the American public simply will not tolerate an open-ended commitment of money and troops while millions of Americans are losing their health care, their homes, their jobs, their pensions, their investments. I support the Legislative Branch Appropriations bill by itself. I cannot support it when it is used as a vehicle for perpetuating the Iraq and Afghanistan wars.

HONORING COMMANDER SETH
FOSTER HUDGINS III, UNITED STATES NAVY, FOR 22 YEARS OF HONORABLE SERVICE

HON. ILEANA ROS-LEHTINEN

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Madam Speaker, I am pleased to recognize CDR Seth Foster Hudgins III, United States Navy. Commander Hudgins is retiring from the Navy after 22 years of honorable service as a commissioned officer. Commander Hudgins is the eldest son of Seth and Joy Hudgins of Cornwall, NY and is a 1987 graduate of the United States Naval Academy. Shortly after graduation, Commander Hudgins entered U.S. Navy undergraduate flight training, and in 1989, he earned Naval Aviator wings as a jet pilot.

Since that time, Commander Hudgins has served his country in many different capacities, most notably serving as his squadron's Operations Officer and Acting Executive Officer in Operation Enduring Freedom. Throughout his sterling service to our Nation, Commander Hudgins has been awarded the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal, two Air Medals, and the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal, among others. He has accumulated over 3000 flight hours and more than 500 carrier landings. Commander Hudgins has served our great country with honor and distinction. I wish him and his wife Jennifer all the best as he retires from the Navy and continues to serve our nation at the Joint Interagency Task Force South in Key West.

ENHANCED PARTNERSHIP WITH PAKISTAN ACT OF 2009

SPEECH OF

HON. AL GREEN

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 30, 2009

Mr. AL GREEN of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of S. 1707, the Enhanced Partnership with Pakistan Act of 2009, a bipartisan bill designed to forge a true strategic partnership with Pakistan and its people, strengthen its democratic government, and support Pakistan so it may become a force for stability in a volatile region.

This legislation triples the authorization for U.S. economic, social, and democratic development assistance to Pakistan to $1.5 billion a year for fiscal years 2010 through 2014. The bill provides that this aid be provided with a particular focus on strengthening democratic institutions, promoting economic development, and improving Pakistan's public education system.

The bill also authorizes military assistance to Pakistan to help it disrupt and defeat al Qaeda and relevant insurgent elements, and requires that such assistance be focused primarily on helping Pakistan with its critical counterinsurgency and counterterrorism efforts.

The security of Pakistan and the United States is closely linked. We cannot succeed in defeating al Qaeda by ourselves. Therefore, it is critically important that we develop a robust, long-term relationship with our strategic partners to prevail against those who threaten our national security.

S. 1707 is an essential tool in our efforts to dismantle terrorism and underscores the United States' long-term commitment to the people of Pakistan.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting S. 1707, the Enhanced Partnership with Pakistan Act of 2009.

GEOTHERMAL PRODUCTION EXPANSION ACT

HON. JAY INSLEE

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. INSLEE. Madam Speaker, today, I introduced the bipartisan Geothermal Production Expansion Act with Representative MIKE SIMPSON, and I thank him for his leadership on this issue. Our bill will ensure that we tap into clean geothermal energy using on-the-shelf technologies.

Geothermal energy has great potential to add clean energy to American electricity supplies. It is especially promising as a renewable resource because it is a base load power which doesn't require any fossil fuel backup.

However, at this point in time, proven geothermal resources have at times gone undeveloped in instances involving adjoining federal lands because speculators increasingly drive up the cost of federal lands adjacent to a geothermal development site. This hurts developers who take on the upfront cost of exploration and developing a site because when an exploration proves fruitful, the developer is bid out of the market due to extremely high leasing costs for adjacent lands. In many cases, the end result is that the development is halted and no clean energy comes online.

Already under EPACK 2005 amendments, BLM is allowed to issue three different non-competitive leases for geothermal resources, which include: non-competitive geothermal leases to mining claim holders that have a valid operating plan (having invested capital), direct use leases and leases on parcels that do not sell at a competitive auction.

The Geothermal Production Expansion Act is a targeted approach to the aforementioned speculation problem, simply creating a fourth category whereby the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) may issue a non-competitive geothermal lease, allowing qualified companies who hold legal rights to develop geothermal leases on certain adjoining lands.

An added benefit, the bill will significantly accelerate the development of geothermal projects by reducing the time spent on nominating and waiting for an auction, which can add a minimum of one-to-two years to the development phase of a geothermal resource.

This bill is a reasonable policy to ensure that developers who have invested substantial capital and made high risk investments can secure and develop geothermal discoveries. Additionally, it will help add renewable, domestically produced energy resources to the American consumers' electricity supply. I believe that this is an important issue and I hope that the House will soon consider this legislation.

HONORING OUR NATION'S ICBM FORCE ON ITS 50TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. EARL POMEROY

OF NORTH DAKOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. POMEROY. Madam Speaker, I would like to recognize the 20th Air Force as we prepare to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the nation's nuclear Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM) force. I have had the privilege of working with the Airmen who maintain this critical piece of our nuclear triad throughout my career in Congress and have seen first hand the commitment and dedication of all of those involved in ensuring that this crucial capability remains ready to respond on a moments notice.

The history of our ICBM force began in 1954 with the establishment of the Western Development Division. The Western Development Division was responsible for the development of the first generation of underground ICBM's, the Titans, and the above-ground Atlas.

This development led to the initial alert of a nuclear warhead equipped ICBM, an Atlas D, at Vandenberg Air Force Base, California, in October of 1959. Soon after, work began on the Minuteman I missile, a second generation ICBM that would be on alert by the time of the Cuban Missile Crisis in 1962. Within three years the Air Force had replaced all of its first generation ICBM's with Minuteman I and a newer more advanced version, the Minuteman II. The Minuteman II would remain in service for the next 30 years.

By the 1970's the Air Force had developed the Minuteman III with the first squadron of Minuteman III missiles at Minot Air Force Base, North Dakota reaching operational status by the end of December 1970. With the threat of the Soviet Union developing and deploying an increasing number of multi-warhead ICBM's the Air Force began to develop a third generation ICBM that would become the Peacekeeper. The Peacekeeper would ultimately be deployed in 1987 at F.E. Warren Air Force Base in Wyoming.

For the past 50 years, the ICBM fleet has provided an important nuclear deterrent, which at its peak included more than 1,200 missiles. Today the Air Force has 450 Minuteman III ICBM's on alert in North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and Nebraska. As the Air Force activates Air Force Global Strike Command, a brand-new command committed solely to the nuclear deterrence mission, the 20th Air Force and the ICBM mission will transfer from Air Force Space Command to Air Force Global Strike Command.

Madam Speaker, the citizens of the United States have been lucky to have the Airmen of the 20th Air Force diligently working to operate and secure this vital component of our nation's security for the past 50 years. These Airmen have maintained a constant state of vigilance 24 hours a day, seven days a week, performing vital operations, maintenance and security missions across the missile fields in areas that to the untrained eye look just like any other place in America. This is a mission that demands a constant level of alert to respond in an instant should it ever become necessary to employ our arsenal. This constant vigilance has served America so well in the past is poised to continue well into the future. I know my fellow Members of the House of Representatives will join me in congratulating the Air Force's 50 years of commitment to the ICBM mission with the highest standards of performance.

ANTHONY P. DEANGELO

HON. MIKE QUIGLEY

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. QUIGLEY. Madam Speaker, today I rise in recognition of Anthony P. DeAngelo, a valued member of my staff. Tomorrow, October 2, is Anthony's last day as the Staff Assistant/Press Assistant in my Washington, D.C. office. His dedication to serving the people of the Illinois Fifth District is very much appreciated, and he will be greatly missed.

Anthony joined my staff prior to my election to Congress in April of this year. He then made the trip to our nation's capital and was instrumental in establishing my Washington, DC office. He helped establish our new media programs, press operations and intern program. He always took the time to make constituents feel at home in our office and ensured that their trips to Washington were memorable and worthwhile.

Tomorrow he leaves to take a position as Deputy Communications Director in the Office of Congresswoman DEBBIE HALVORSON. I am pleased he will continue to serve the people of Illinois, and I wish him the best of luck in his future endeavors.

HONORING THE LIFE AND LEGACY OF DR. VASCO SMITH

HON. STEVE COHEN

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. COHEN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the life and legacy of a great Memphian and a great American, Dr. Vasco Smith. Dr. Smith was one of the true stalwarts of civil rights in the city of Memphis and in the nation. Dr. Smith lived a life of service and sacrifice.

Vasco Smith served our nation in the Air Force in the Korean War. A graduate of LeMoyne College in Memphis and Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Dr. Smith was a dentist by profession. In 1955, he and his wife, Maxine, returned to their beloved Memphis, completely segregated at the time, and used their passion and commitment to become leaders in the Civil Rights movement.

In 1962, Dr. Smith convinced the owner of the segregated Malco Theatre in downtown Memphis to gradually integrate by selling tickets to African-Americans in the "whites only" orchestra level of the theatre. In their pursuit to end racial discrimination, the Smiths endured numerous death threats, many arrests by the police, and the tragic murders of their friends Dr. Martin Luther King and Medgar Evers.

In 1973, Dr. Smith became the first African-American elected to an at-large position on the Shelby County Commission where he served until 1994. Dr. Smith was a compassionate and effective County Commissioner. He and I served together as Commissioners from 1978 to 1980. During this time on the Commission, we worked together to build the Regional Medical Center, our charity hospital and trauma center in Shelby County that serves people who would otherwise have no access to health care. He and fellow County Commissioner Jesse Turner, Sr., who also served as National Treasurer for the NAACP, were known as "the freedom fighters." They fought for civil rights in Memphis and stood up when others did not. They were always the voices of conscience, reasonableness, and morality in our community.

Vasco Smith was a loving husband to Maxine Smith. As Wendi Thomas of the Commercial Appeal noted, it is difficult to think of either Smith without the other because they were a team; indeed, together they were a force for change and progress. Maxine Smith served as the Executive Secretary of the Memphis branch of the NAACP for more than forty years and continues to serve on the NAACP National Board of Directors. For two decades, Maxine Smith served on the Memphis City School Board. She served on the Tennessee Board of Regents for over a decade. Married 56 years, Maxine and Vasco Smith were true soulmates. Together, they had one son, Dr. Vasco "Smitty" Smith, III, a dentist like his father, who made his parents very proud.

Dr. Vasco Smith was a special man to me because he showed moral rectitude of a type that's rarely seen. He knew justice beyond color and will be remembered in Memphis as a great civil rights leader, a husband, a father, a professional, and a great Memphian.

He will be buried Friday. I will be there with him. His was a life well lived.

HONORING THE SECOND HONOR FLIGHT OF SOUTHERN NEW MEXICO

HON. HARRY TEAGUE

OF NEW MEXICO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. TEAGUE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to speak in honor of the World War II veterans from my district who are traveling to Washington, D.C. today on the Second Honor Flight of Southern New Mexico.

The Honor Flight of Southern New Mexico was established by business and community leaders in my district who are devoted to honoring our veterans. The aim of the program is to provide as many World War II veterans as possible with the opportunity to see the World War II Memorial here in Washington, D.C. at no cost to them. Last October, Southern New Mexico had its First Honor Flight, which was a great success. Southern New Mexico's Second Honor Flight departed from El Paso International Airport this morning carrying World War II veterans from my district who have never had an opportunity to see the World War II Memorial that was built in their honor. These veterans, who risked their lives to defend the freedoms we enjoy today, will land at Reagan National Airport where they will be greeted with a grand salute. From there, they will have an opportunity to visit the World War II Memorial for the very first time. At the memorial, there will be a wreath laying ceremony in honor of veterans who have passed away, a memory session for the veterans to share their World War II stories, and a group photo so that they can remember this day for the rest of their lives. They will return home this evening.

These veterans fought nobly for our freedoms and we cannot even begin to repay them for their sacrifices. The least we can do is try to show them the depth of our gratitude by providing them with this once in a lifetime opportunity to visit their memorial. I am proud that every dollar that is paying for this honor flight came from private citizens who recognize the immense sacrifice these veterans made to ensure their liberty. This flight would not be possible without the dedication of Judge Robert Brack and Judge Leslie Smith of Las Cruces, who initially spearheaded the idea of bringing the Honor Flight program to Southern New Mexico. In addition, the Honor Flight Board of Directors comprised of Chairman Bill Mattiace, Vice-Chairman Darrell Wall, Treasurer Gary Lenzo, and Secretary Patsy A. Duran contributed much time and energy to advocating for this cause, and to recruiting board members. Board Members Steven Alexander, Walt Baker, Pat Carr, Jag Cheema, Denton Holmes, Dolores Connor, J.R. Turner, Susie Cordero, Carrie Contreras, Debbie Hanssen, and Dolores Archuleta have also made invaluable contributions through their tireless efforts to expand the Honor Flight program and seek out donors. The generosity these private citizens have shown is an example of the bigheartedness that is a true part of the American spirit, and I am touched by their willingness to provide such a rare and meaningful opportunity to their friends, neighbors, and even perfect strangers.

From the Western Front to the Eastern Front, from the Pacific and Asian Theatre to the African Theatre, Americans from our "greatest generation" risked life and limb to halt the rise of fascism. We owe them more thanks than we can ever express. I welcome these brave veterans to Washington and to their memorial.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. JOHN H. ADLER

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. ADLER of New Jersey. Madam Speaker, today, I was not present in Washington, DC to cast the following votes, because I was attending a ceremony to commemorate the first operating day of Joint Base McGuire/Dix/Lakehurst in New Jersey's 3rd Congressional District. Joint Base McGuire/Dix/Lakehurst is the first tri-service base in the country, and today was significant for my district and the United States military. If I were present, I would have voted the following way.

1) Republican Motion to Instruct Conferees on H.R. 2892—Department of Homeland Security Appropriations Act, 2010—I would have voted yes.

2) H. Res. 517—Congratulating the University of Washington women's softball team for winning the 2009 Women's College World Series—I would have voted yes.

3) H. Res. 487—Recognizing the 100th anniversary of the State News at Michigan State University—I would have voted yes.

4) H. Res. 788—Rule providing for consideration of the Conference Report on H.R. 3183—Energy and Water Development and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2010—I would have voted yes.

5) H. Res. 692—Supporting the goals and ideals of Tay-Sachs Awareness Month—I would have voted yes.

6) H. Con. Res. 151—Expressing the sense of Congress that China release democratic activist Liu Xiaobo from imprisonment—I would have voted yes.

7) Final Passage of the Conference Report on H.R. 3183—Energy and Water Development and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2010—I would have voted yes.

EARMARK DECLARATION

HON. WALTER B. JONES

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. JONES. Madam Speaker, pursuant to the Republican Leadership standards on earmarks, I am submitting the following information regarding project funding I received as part of H.R. 3293, the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2010:

Rep. WALTER B. JONES

Project: Metabolic Institute

Recipient: East Carolina University

Account: Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA)—Health Facilities and Services

Amount: $222,000

Explanation: The funding will allow the Metabolic Institute at East Carolina University to develop a clinical research center and laboratory to advance the Metabolic Institute's study of new technology and medical treatments for obesity and diabetes. Diabetes is an epidemic: diabetes is the sixth leading cause of death in the U.S., afflicts more than 7 percent of the population, and cost our economy about $174 billion in 2007 alone, according to the American Diabetes Association. The Metabolic Institute will continue to build on East Carolina University's pioneer metabolic advancements, including the Greenville Gastric Bypass, to explore the question of why diabetes disappears in four out of five patients with the disease after they undergo gastric bypass surgery.

HONORING WOODY WATSON

HON. JOHN J. DUNCAN, JR.

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. DUNCAN. Madam Speaker, my grandmother taught for 40 years and my sister Beverly, taught for over 30 years in the public schools of Tennessee. I am proud of both of them.

In Tuesday's Knoxville News Sentinel, there was an interview with Woody Watson, whom I have known since high school.

Mr. Watson has now taught in Knox County Tennessee where I also am from, for 41 years. Very few people teach for that long, and those who do should be highly praised.

I admire and respect Woody Watson for his many years of dedication to the young people of east Tennessee.

I would like to call to the attention of my colleagues and other readers of the RECORD, the News Sentinel interview with Mr. Watson.

[From knoxnews.com, Sept. 29, 2009]

40 YEARS OF EDUCATING: WATSON AND ANDERSON

(By Jessica Boyd)

EDITOR'S NOTE: The News Sentinel will profile two local teachers who each have about 40 years of education experience within the community in this twice monthly series.

WOODY WATSON, 41 YEARS

Woody Watson, 62, says a smile and a kind word goes a long way when dealing with students. He should know since he's been smiling and speaking kindly to them for 41 years. The Knoxville native taught eighth-grade science at Karns Middle School for 23 years before he spent nine years at Northwest Middle School teaching the same thing. He's been back in action as a seventh-grade teacher at Karns Middle since 2001. "I always tell people, I taught eighth grade for 32 years," the University of Tennessee graduate in natural science said before he laughed. "And then I got demoted."

Why teaching? "I liked the subject matter, and I like being around young people, they keep me young at heart. I just couldn't go sit at a cubicle and do the same thing every day."

What techniques do you use to teach? "I like to have students get involved and be hands on in the science lab to help them understand the world they live in."

Do you have a favorite year? "I think that would probably be 1986. The highlight of that year is we took a trip to New Orleans for a long weekend, and (the students) learned about the history of the area."

What has changed for better since you've been teaching? "Our class averages were lowered. State law has limited that to 30 in seventh and eighth grade . . . It really makes a difference to have five or six fewer kids in a class."

What has changed for worse since you've been teaching? "When I came to Karns, it was a small farming community. Of course now the farms have been sold off, and it's wall-to-wall subdivisions, so just the lack of the community closeness and the breakdown of the family."

What's been the best advancement in education? "Probably all the information available online . . . I think Karns Middle was one of the first schools to have a computer lab when the first Apple computers came out back in the 80s. That area of technology has made a lot of opportunities for our students. It also presents some problems if the parents don't monitor what the kids are doing."

Do you have any words of wisdom for teachers just starting out? "Be patient, keep up with your paperwork, and try not to be overwhelmed with all the things you have to do that's not related to the teaching of students."

ARCHIE ANDERSON, 42 YEARS

Archie Anderson, 65, taught for 26 years at Maryville Middle School before he made the big switch to administration. For 12 years, he was the assistant principal of the middle school before he made an even bigger switch. Now he's in charge of transportation and attendance at Maryville City Schools. Archie graduated from Maryville College and received his master's degree at Tennessee Tech.

What do you do now?

"I come up with bus routes, and I work with the bus owner. I'm kind of a trouble shooter. I handle all parent and or school complaints and try to resolve all those."

What did you teach before you moved into administration?

"I taught P.E. I coached football, basketball and track for about 26 years."

Did you have a favorite year when you were teaching?

"I enjoyed the early years because being a younger guy, it seemed like I had better relationships with kids. As you get older and your hair's grey and you have more wrinkles, kids are more standoffish."

What's the coolest technological advancement you've seen?

"Computers in the classroom and access to the internet. Everything you want is there. The negative part is we've got text messaging and cell phones in the classroom. So (technology) is not all good. That's a daily struggle."

Do you miss teaching? "I miss the relationship with the students. I don't get to know the students as well as I used to. I have gotten to know the staff better . . . I've really gotten to know the administrators of the schools."

EARMARK DECLARATION

HON. KEVIN BRADY

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Madam Speaker, pursuant to the Republican Leadership standards on earmarks, I am submitting the following information regarding earmarks I received as part of H.R. 3183—Energy and Water Development and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2010.

Requesting Member: Congressman KEVIN BRADY, Texas 8th Congressional District

Bill Number: H.R. 3183—Energy and Water Development and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2010

Project: Sam Rayburn Reservoir Operations & Maintenance

Account: Operations and Maintenance, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers

Requesting Entity: U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Fort Worth District

Address of Requesting Entity: 819 Taylor Street, Fort Worth, TX 76102

This is the third year I've requested funding to repair the Twin Dikes Park marine launching complex since its collapse due to Hurricane Rita, erosion, and excessive wave action. Unfortunately, the Corps has a backlog of maintenance on some of the most widely used recreational facilities at Lake Sam Rayburn. In addition to Twin Dikes Park launching complex, I continue to support the U.S. Corps of Engineers annual request for funding to operate and maintain the lakes, and other water resources of East and Southeast Texas.

The $5,937,000 included in this conference report will be allocated to perform annual operations and maintenance of the Sam Rayburn Dam and Reservoir.

CELEBRATING THE FIRST YEAR ANNIVERSARY OF REVEREND PATRICIA A. REEBERG AS PASTOR OF THE REJOICE MINISTRIES—CHURCH OF THE HEALING EPHEBUS SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS CHURCH IN HARLEM

HON. CHARLES B. RANGEL

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. RANGEL. Madam Speaker, I rise today to celebrate my dear friend Reverend Patricia A. Reeborg as the Rejoice Ministry of the Church of the Healing Ephesus Seventh-Day Adventists Church celebrates her First Year Anniversary, which took place on Sunday, September 20, 2009.

The Reverend Patricia A. Reeborg, an Ambassador for Christ, is a woman of faith, character and action. Her life's call is to "equip the saints." The vocation God has assigned to her to fulfill this call is to preach the Gospel. Rev. Reeborg is the Pastor of Rejoice Ministries—The Church of Healing, which was formed under the direction of the Holy Spirit on December 31, 2008.

She has served on the ministerial staff at St. Paul Baptist Church, Memorial Baptist Church, Crawford Memorial United Methodist Church, Believers Christian Fellowship, Beck Presbyterian Church, and Bethesda Baptist Church. Patricia A. Reeborg earned her Masters of Divinity at Union Theological Seminary in New York City. She also augmented her training at Harvard Divinity School Summer Leadership Institute, Interdenominational School of Theology Church Administration and Management, and Columbia University Graduate School of Business for Not-for-Profit Management.

Pastor Reeborg is the recipient of numerous awards and appointments, including, Commissioner on the Civilian Complaint Review Board; the Charles E. Merrill Fellowship from Harvard Divinity School; and was also a founding board member of Harlem Congregations for Community Improvement. Pastor Reeborg is also registered in the National Register's Who's Who in Executives and Professionals, 2004–2010; and Who's Who of American Women 2006–2009.

Her many accomplishments also include first woman and the first Baptist minister to serve as Executive Director and Chief Executive Officer of the Council of the Churches of the City of New York. As an entrepreneur, Rev. Reeborg is the owner of Cruise Planners and SM&G Consultation. She has published numerous articles and is working on her first book entitled, "And The Lord Shall Gather Me Up," to be published in 2009.

Please join me in celebrating Reverend Patricia A. Reeborg on her First Year Anniversary as Pastor of the Rejoice Ministries of the Church of the Healing Ephesus Seventh-Day Adventists Church, located in my Congressional District in Harlem.

HONORING THE LIFE AND ACHIEVEMENTS OF CHARLES
"TIF" BINGHAM

HON. STEVE COHEN

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. COHEN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of Mr. Charles "Tif" Bingham, one of the kindest and most personable individuals I have ever known. He was always thinking of people and was truly concerned about others. His smile and demeanor attracted friends and warmed their spirits.

Tif Bingham graduated from Yale University and then served our country as a captain and fighter pilot in the Marine Corps. In 1960, he moved to Memphis as a Vice-President for Conwood Corporation.

He was a civic leader, serving as the Executive Director of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and founder of the Mid-South Parkinson's Disease Foundation.

Tif was one of the founders and Second President of the Memphis In May International Festival, which highlights the best of Memphis culture: music, barbecue, and arts. Each year the festival showcases the best of Memphis and, simultaneously, brings the world to our city, exposing our citizens to people from around the globe, enriching our lives and expanding our horizons.

I have had the pleasure of representing Tif and wife Sandy as constituents of the Ninth District. They were frequent visitors on Capitol Hill and were much loved by those in which they came in contact with. Several members of Congress as well as Jimmy Miller, Director of Committee Facilities and Travel for the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee, wish to express their deepest regrets to the Bingham family.

Tif Bingham was an avid sailor and world traveler. As grandson of U.S. Senator Hiram Bingham, who discovered Machu Picchu, he inherited a curiosity and urge to explore the world, all to be knowledgeable about public affairs. He leaves his wife Sandy Dickey, to whom he was married for 27 years. Sandy loved Tif and was the epitome of "for better or worse". He is also survived by three children, Eleanor Bingham Mallory, Grace Bingham and Charles Bingham and six grandchildren.

Tif Bingham loved life and lived it to the fullest. He enriched the lives of his family, friends and the city of Memphis. He will be sorely missed and always remembered.
